HIGHWAY BILL BECOMES LAW

Jobs Are Created

Ike Sees Flaws, But Signs $1.8 Billion Measure

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower ended the suspense Wednesday and signed the $1,800,000,000 highway bill.

He found things wrong with it—precedents he said he wouldn't like to see followed in the future—but decided to go along because of prospects it could be a quick help in creating jobs.

There had been advance indications that Eisenhower would sign, but no certainty. Only last Saturday a big Chicago meeting to discuss highway construction was called off because of doubt as to whether the bill would become law.

The bill was pressed chiefly by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) but it had bi-partisan backing, notably by Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif). It won 84-4 approval in the Senate and the House voted for it 300-28.

3 Main Objectives

The new law aims at 3 major goals:

1. To provide new jobs. Gore estimated that 88,000 could be created this year. It was estimated that the new jobs would swell to 520,000 in time.

2. To get the schedule for the 41,000-mile superhighway interstate network back on the 13-year schedule set for it in 1956. Otherwise, the prospect was for a long stretchout.

3. To establish a national policy of regulating billboards on the interstate system and giving states incentives to carry out this policy. States agreeing to regulate billboards would get a bonus of ½ of 1% of the cost of the interstate sections regulated by the agreement.

Total Of $5.5 Billion

The bill is spoken of as a $1,800,000,000 measure because that is the sum it is estimated will be available for construction this year beyond the money previously scheduled. It raises to $5,500,000,000 the amount to be spent this year on the over-all federal-state highway program.

The federal government pays 90% of the cost of the interstate network, the states 10%. Where states go along with the billboard control arrangement, the federal share will be 90½%.

Eisenhower's objections were mainly to the bill's provision to drop, for one year, the 50-50 federal-state division of the cost of work on federal aid programs outside the interstate network.

The bill provides that for one year, the states need put up only $1 to each $2 of federal money for primary, secondary and urban federal-aid roads.

Sees Possible Precedent

Eisenhower said: "I deplore the possibility that some may try to use this departure from a sound arrangement as a precedent for emulation. This I would resist."

He used the words "another damaging precedent" in taking exception to a plan in the bill for states to obtain federal advances to finance most of their one-third cost of additional work on primary, secondary and urban roads.

But, Eisenhower found 3 main reasons for signing. He summed them up:

"The first is the desirability of speeding up construction of our badly needed system of interstate highways, as was proposed in recommendations I recently submitted to the Congress.

"The second is the hope that in the acceleration of work on this system and on the other federal-aid highway programs some impetus may promptly be given to public and private efforts to increase employment.

"The third is the temporary character of what I believe to be the faulty provisions of the bill; only because these are not permanently contemplated can I give my approval to this legislation."

HEBRON BLAST HURTS 2

Filling Station Is Completely Leveled

Lincoln Star Special

Hebron, Neb.—An explosion and fire late Wednesday afternoon completely leveled a Hebron filling station and left two persons hospitalized.

Herman Zuehlsdorf, 35, proprietor of the B&Z Oil Co., suffered severe cuts and burns to his head and face when he was buried under the debris. His condition was not believed critical.

Also hospitalized was a customer at the filling station, Dale Gaston, 30, also of Hebron. His injuries included minor cuts and shock.

Louis Raumer, an employe of the station, escaped injury as he had just stepped into a pickup truck as the blast occurred.

Exploding gasoline fumes were blamed for the blast.

Volunteer firemen were able to keep the flames, which followed the blast, under control.

Force of the explosion blew out plate glass windows at a nearby restaurant, an adjoining implement company building and at another filling station across the street.

The blast blew debris approximately 350 feet into the air and over a wide area.

In addition to destroying the building, the blast and fire also damaged a $15,000 stock of tires and oil. The station is owned by L. A. Overman of Hebron. It is located on U.S. 81 on the east edge of Hebron.

Scattered Showers To Join 'Summer'

Widely scattered thundershowers are due to move into western and central Nebraska Thursday afternoon and evening, the Weather Bureau said, with continued warm weather.

Highs Thursday are to hit 75-85 in the southeast and 70-75 in the northwest, the Bureau said. Skies will be partly cloudy.

Valentine reported the state high of 90 Wednesday. Lincoln recorded an 80-degree high and a low of 50. Sunny skies, gusting winds and 80-degree readings prevailed over almost all of the state.

The 5-day forecast calls for temperatures averaging 5-10 degrees above normal. Normal highs are near 64; normal lows averaging 35 in the west to 39 in the east.

Little or no precipitation is on tap for the period, the Bureau said.

3 Students Win Star Scholarships

Students from Morrill and 2 Lincoln high schools have been chosen to receive Lincoln Star freshman scholarships in journalism at the University of Nebraska next year, Star Managing Editor Larry Becker announced Wednesday.

The 1958 winners, chosen from a field of 16 applicants:

—Norman Beatty, Morrill High School.

—Ann Sowles, Lincoln Southeast High School.

—Charlotte Douglas, Lincoln High School.

Beatty will receive a $250 scholarship; the 2 Lincoln girls, a $100 scholarship each, Becker said.

Beatty is serving his second year as both editor and sports editor of his high school newspaper. He also writes a weekly "Teen Topics" column for the Morrill Mail.

Miss Sowles is organization editor of Southeast High's yearbook and co-author of a regular Star column, "Chatter in the Corridor," devoted to people and activities at Southeast. A varsity cheerleader and Southeast representative at Girls' State last year, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles of 2626 Calvert.

Miss Douglas is a staff writer for the Lincoln High newspaper and managing editor of the Scribe, a literary publication. A member of the Student Council and formerly a class officer, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roby of 1320 So. 44th.

Becker said all 3 Star scholarship winners rank in the top fourth of their graduating classes. This is the second year of the scholarship program.

The trio will be among the guests of honor at the School of Journalism's annual Silver Key luncheon for high school journalists Saturday, May 17, at the Student Union.

2 Neighbors Will Take Lie Test In Arson Case

. . . Marital Status Question Raised

Several Havelock residents are expected to take lie detector tests later this week in connection with the burning of the home of a Negro family at 4210 No. 60th, Police Chief Joe Carroll reported Wednesday.

Sherman Brown, the 34-year-old tenant of the one-story frame home, underwent a police lie detector test Tuesday night and apparently was cleared of any involvment in the incident.

Carroll said the results of the test, however, were "not conclusive because Brown indicated he did not wish to discuss his family situation. It was learned that there was only a 'common-law' marriage with the woman living with him in Lincoln and that she had left for Louisiana (in March) not solely because of threats (to the family) but also because of domestic difficulties."

Carroll said, however, that if he had believed Brown set his own home afire he would have lodged him in jail and not have released him. The chief added that information received from Brown "will aid in the arson investigation."

'To Clear Selves'

Police asked 2 neighbors of Brown if they would be willing to take lie detector tests to clear themselves of any possible involvement in the case and both agreed. Carroll said, however, that none of the persons to be tested are necessarily considered suspects but it is just a routine step in an investigation of this type.

Brown, the woman Carroll referred to as his "common-law" wife and the family's 3 children moved into the previously all-white neighborhood Jan. 13, and since have been the subjects of verbal abuse and minor acts of vandalism. An unknown arsonist climaxed the trouble Saturday night by pouring fuel oil in the home's 2 bedrooms and setting the blaze while Brown was not at home.

Carroll said a check of Brown's story on his whereabouts at the time the fire was started has apparently verified his account of his activities.

'Arson, Not Marital Status, Main Issue'

. . . Churchman Says

"Arson, presumably caused by racial prejudice, is the real issue," and the marital status of the Sherman Brown family "should have no bearing on the real issue involved," the president of the Lincoln Council of Churches said Wednesday.

The Rev. Thomas C. Dick Jr., minister at First Plymouth Congregational Church, made the statement following a meeting of Council officials.

"It is unfortunate that the lie-detector tests revealed domestic difficulties in the Sherman Brown family," the Rev. Mr. Dick said.

'Not Primary Issue'

"However, the domestic situation of the Browns is not the primary issue. Arson is the issue. The relevance of the interrogation of Sherman Brown in the marital area has to be demonstrated.

"The person or persons responsible for the fire must be apprehended. Every safeguard must be observed by private citizens and public officials that no suspicion of racial prejudice or discrimination can be justly charged.

"The people of Lincoln and others who have responded to the appeal for help for the Browns have acted in good faith and in a desire to help re-establish the Browns.

"The need for re-habilitation remains. The need for understanding also remains, and we are confident that the people of Lincoln will not let this need go unmet."

Anti-Secret Bill Passed

House OKs Measure Barring Use Of 169-Year-Old Law To Withhold Information

Washington (AP)—The House Wednesday passed and sent to the Senate a one-sentence bill barring government officials from using a 169-year old federal housekeeping law as a basis for withholding information from the public.

The bill of Rep. Moss (D-Calif) went through by voice vote after nearly 4 hours of debate. Eisenhower administration moves to amend it were rejected.

A similar measure was given strong backing across the Capitol before a Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee. Representatives of newspaper, radio and television groups testified in support of it.

The target of the legislation is a 1789 law authorizing department heads to issue regulations for the "custody, preservatives and use" of records. The bill passed by the House amends the old statute to say it does not authorize withholding information from the public.

In the House debate, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) protested "the newspaper lobby has grown all powerful." He contended the bill is unconstitutional and ineffective.

Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) told the House the measure perhaps doesn't go far enough, adding: "I'm completely fed up with the withholding of information from members of Congress and others."

'Capricious'

Rep. Moss, chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee, said the bill serves notice that federal arbitrary reasons cannot be condoned."

Knocked down by voice or standing votes were Republican moves which their authors said would clarify the bill, but which Moss contended would make it confusing.

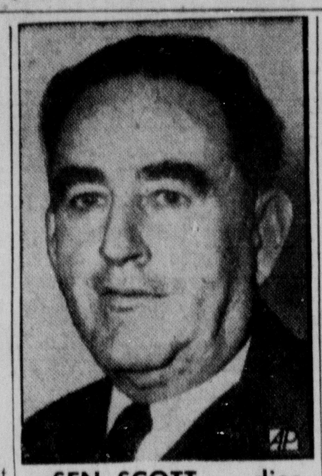
Rep. Hoffman, along with Republican Reps. Meader (Mich), Hyde (Md), and Griffin (Mich) all lost amendments which would have stipulated that the Moss bill does not require federal officials to open their records to the public.

Herbert Brucker, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), told the Senate group headed by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) that the bill will help keep people free by helping them to know the truth.

1 Child Saved, 2 Are Found Dead In Ditch

Belmont, N. C. (AP) — A passerby attracted by the frantic barking of a small dog pulled a 5-year-old girl to safety from a rain-swollen drainage ditch near here Wednesday. The bodies of her 2 older brothers were found in the ditch later.

Leonard Tucker, who was driving a tractor nearby, said he heard the barking of the small black and white dog who was standing next to a fourth child, 4-year-old Joe Shepard.



SEN. SCOTT . . . dies in North Carolina.

Senator Scott, 61, Is Dead

N. Carolina Demo Dies Following Heart Attack

Burlington, N.C. (AP)—Sen. W. Kerr Scott (D-NC), colorful, tobacco-chewing former governor, died on the eve of his 62nd birthday here Wednesday of a heart attack he suffered a week ago.

The death of North Carolina's junior senator reduced the Democratic majority in the Senate to one, 48-47, and made 34 Senate seats up for election in November.

Scott, who promoted his state's main agricultural product by giving every visitor to his Washington office a plug of tobacco, had been reported improving in the daily medical bulletins issued since his heart attack while home during the Easter congressional recess.

Earlier Wednesday his doctor reported him in good spirits and making satisfactory progress in his recovery. A noon bulletin from his physician, Dr. W. G. Blair, said his patient "is coming along fine, with temperature and pulse normal."

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the Hawfields Presbyterian Church, where Scott served as an elder for many years. Burial will be in the church cemetery, where the Scotts have a burial plot.

A special birthday party had been planned for the tobacco-chewing, cigar-smoking senator in his hospital room Thursday.

Haw River Farm

Scott, home for the Easter recess of Congress, left his Haw River dairy farm near here last Wednesday and went to the highway patrol station at nearby Graham to get his drivers license renewed. He was accompanied by Mrs. Scott.

During the examination, Mrs. Scott noticed that her husband was perspiring profusely and breathing with difficulty. She suggested that they stop by a doctor's office, where the heart attack was diagnosed and the senator ordered to a hospital.

Go 700 Miles Wrong Way—

Tots Take Bus To Sidney; Found Crying In Chicago

Chicago (AP)—Two weary, sniffling children took an unexpected 700-mile bus ride Wednesday.

And instead of arriving at their home in Sidney, Neb., they reached Chicago. That so added to their bewilderment that the 2 forgot their names.

Aid officials at the bus terminal searched a small suitcase and a lunch box they carried. No names or addresses. But on a color sketch book one of the tots carried were the names—Earl and Sandra Prather.

Hearing their names, the children began to talk. Earl is 6 and Sandra 4 and an aunt at Lexington, Neb., had been caring for them because their mother is in a hospital and their daddy was hunting work.

They had been put on a bus at Lexington for Sidney. But they somehow got on a Chicago-bound bus.

The 2 were sent to St. Luke's hospital where their colds were treated and then put to bed. Mrs. Paul Robinson was located at Lexington. She said she'd drive to Chicago Monday and return Earl and Sandra to their home.

—Goes To House—

Works Bill Is OK'd

Senate Approves Anti-Recession Measure

Washington (AP) — The Senate Wednesday night passed an anti-recession bill to lend a billion dollars in federal funds to cities and states for public works projects.

The vote was 60-26. The bill now goes to the House.

Nebraska Republican senators Curtis and Hruska voted with the losing side.

The measure was sponsored by Senate Democrats. The Eisenhower administration opposed it in the Senate Banking Committee and Republicans succeeded there in cutting it down substantially.

However, Republicans failed on the Senate floor Wednesday in an effort to chop the bill down further to 500 million dollars. This was beaten 52-33.

The bill would authorize 50-year loans at a 3½% interest rate. There could be a 2-year postponement on payment of interest and principal on the loans.

Small Cities

Sponsors said it would principally aid small cities because large municipalities now can borrow at less than 3½% from private sources. Cities are expected to be the biggest beneficiaries of the bill, with states making relatively little use of it.

The Senate accepted by voice vote an amendment of Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) adding non-profit hospitals to the list of projects eligible for loans.

Other typical projects which could be financed would include sidewalks, schools, libraries, airports, garbage disposal plants, and civil defense structures.

Sen. Bush (R-Conn) presented the motion to cut the fund to half a billion dollars.

This was one of 2 major attempts by the Republicans. Their other one succeeded Tuesday when a 41-40 vote set the interest rate for the federal loans at 3½%.

Trimmed

Democratic sponsors, chiefly Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, had tried to make the rate 3%.

Fulbright's bill started out with a 2-billion-dollar total. It was trimmed in the Banking Committee to 1 billion.

Before getting to Bush's amendment, the Senate defeated one by Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) to permit the administrator of the loan program to reject loan requests from cities if he felt they could get reasonable rates elsewhere.

Thurmond's amendment was supported by Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, and other GOP senators but was defeated 53-33.

Taxes Waived

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower signed a bill waiving federal admissions taxes on performances by non-profit civic groups and certain athletic contests benefitting crippled or retarded children.

The legislation eases previous law which limited tax exemption only to concerts by community organizations. Now included are all dramatic and musical performances by non-profit civic groups.

Highway Bill Gives Nebraska Extra $6.6 Million

Road Work Gets Boost

By Betty Person

Nebraska will receive a bonus of $6.6 million for regular federal aid projects and an additional $2.9 million for its interstate work under the 1958 Federal Highway Act signed Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said the $6.6 million represents a "bonus allocation on our 1959 fiscal funds" and that "we will match that sum with $3.3 million."

He said this bonus federal aid money is being allocated on the basis of $3.5 million for primary roads, $2.5 million for secondary roads, and $600,000 for urban streets.

Ress noted however, that under the 1958 act, the bonus money "loses its (allocation) identity" after the state receives it, and can be distributed in any manner seen fit.

Contract During '58

Another provision of the act on the bonus money is that projects using these funds "must be under contract by Dec. 1, 1958 and completed by Dec. 1, 1959."

Under the 1958 Act, Nebraska also is slated to receive $14.9 million for its regular federal aid highway projects, and a similar amount in 1961.

These funds will be allocated on the basis of $8 million for primary roads, $5.6 million for secondary roads, and $1.3 for urban streets, and will be on the regular 50-50 matching basis.

"We must stick with those allocations on the regular federal aid money," Ress said.

The state also will receive $13.1 million for interstate work for fiscal 1960.

While the 1956 Highway Act carried the provision that interstate funds were to be allocated to the states on a 3-year basis, the 1958 Highway Act has amended that to 1-years' allocation, and the amount to be received after 1960 will have to be determined by another Congress.

Both Gov. Victor Anderson and Ress hailed the President's signing of the highway bill.

The governor said he is pleased with the principle exemplified in the bill "because it's spending money to save money."

'Will Help'

"I think it will help us with our road program, with which we're making wonderful progress," the governor added.

"We've got to work fast to determine where this extra money will be spent, but it will take a few days to study the problem," Anderson continued.

Ress said the roads in all probability will be selected from the state's 4-year road construction program, and they will try to distribute the additional funds around the state "geographically."

Another factor in determination of how Nebraska will spend the bonus, he added, is the necessity that projects must be under contract and completed between Dec. 1, 1958 and 1959.

'Accelerate Plan'

He said approval of the bill "will permit the orderly continuation of the accelerated highway program in Nebraska."

Ress said the Department of Roads "can utilize to good advantage" the federal aid highway funds "in continuing the volume of highway construction which had been planned."

He noted that the state "was beginning to run low on federal aid primary funds."

Trailer House Shattered

This is the shattered remains of the trailer home of James Hammond of the Tom Thumb Trailer Court at 2401 West O. An explosion rocked the trailer early Wednesday morning and Hammond, who was alone at the time, was seriously burned. Firemen blamed gas used for cooking for the explosion. (Star Photo)

Condition Of Trailer Blast Victim 'Fair'

A 28-year-old Lincoln man injured Wednesday morning when his trailer home exploded was reported in fair condition at a local hospital.

James Hammond of the Tom Thumb Trailer Court at 2401 West O told firemen he was lighting a cigaret about 6:40 a.m. when the trailer exploded. Fire Inspector Roscoe Benton said propane gas used for cooking in the 42-foot house trailer apparently was what caused the explosion but whether there was a leak in the tank was not determined.

Hammond crawled from the demolished trailer and ran with his hair and tee-shirt ablaze to the nearby trailer of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kultala, who with Mrs. Herman Weber ripped off his burning shirt and put out the flames.

Hospital officials reported Hammond suffered first, second and third degree burns on the upper part of his body and also leg burns.

Alone At Time

He was alone in the trailer when the blast occurred. His wife and 3-year-old son had left for a visit the night before. The blast rocked the trailer court and was heard as far away as 27th and K in Lincoln.

The damage was estimated at $2,000 to the trailer and $200 to the contents.

Several residents of the court said they at first believed a plane had crashed nearby—the Lincoln Air Force Base is just across the road.

The trailers of Mr. and Mrs. Fody Burroughs and Cleve Anderson, which flanked the Hammon trailer, were both damaged by flying debris and the force of the explosion. Mrs. Burroughs reportedly suffered bruises when she was blown from a chair while eating breakfast. A piece of debris was blown over 2 trailers and smashed the windshield of the Kultala station wagon which was parked next to their trailer.

3 Cons Sought ... Flee Ohio Jail

Akron, Ohio (AP) — A policeman shot and killed one of 5 prisoners who broke out of the Summit County Jail Wednesday.

Three of the men, believed armed with 2 pistols and 2 riot guns taken from the jail, are still at large. Police described them as dangerous. The fifth prisoner was captured shortly after the escape.

Virgil Akers, 21, of Akron, was killed by police Sgt. Nick Van Doros when he refused to obey an order to drop a .38 caliber pistol. George Huff, 23, of Reseda, Calif., surrendered when the stolen car in which he and Akers were riding was stopped by police.

Sought are Frank Sprenz, 28, charged with armed robbery; Richard Hoskinson, 28, breaking and entering; and Jack Adey, 23, burglary and larceny. Akers was being held for parole violation and assault with attempt to kill. Huff was held on suspicion of rape and burglary.

Made A Key

Huf said Sprenz and Adey led the jail break which had been planned for weeks. A key, fashioned from a piece of metal taken from a jail cot, was used to open the door of a large cell housing the 5 men.

Carrying wooden rollers taken from a mop wringer, the prisoners attacked 2 deputies after hurling a pot of hot coffee in the face of a third jailer.

They locked the 3 officers in a cell, took 3 pistols and 2 shotguns from the jail's office and then fled.

Akers was killed as he fled from the house of a former girl friend, Maralyn Alexander, 21.

Nuclear Tests Must Go On, Teller Feels

Washington (INS) — Dr. Edward Teller declared Wednesday the U.S. must develop "clean" nuclear weapons "to save our own people" from fallout of H-bombs used in defense of the nation against a surprise attack.

Teller, the famed nuclear scientist, testified before the Senate disarmament subcommittee that this is one reason he believes testing of nuclear weapons should continue.

He said: "By trying to be super-cautious now, we may unnecessarily sacrifice millions of human lives in a nuclear war later. We must have clean weapons to save our allies and save our own people when we defend against an attack."

Teller, frequently called the "father" of the H-bomb, said that "if we stop testing now, we stop at the place where we know how to use the (hydrogen) explosions to destroy but not how to use them to improve man's living."

Mickey Cohen Is Fined $500 For Slugging Waiter

Los Angeles (AP)—Mickey Cohen was fined $500 Wednesday for slugging a waiter.

Municipal Judge Gerald C. Kepple remarked as he sentenced the ex-convict ex-gambler:

"... Regardless of provocation, real or imagined, Mickey Cohen can't afford to punch anyone in the nose any more than I, as a judge, can determine cases by cracking a few heads together—as much as I might have the urge or that justice might be served in that manner."

Cohen was convicted April 7 of battery. Waiter Arthur H. Black alleged Cohen slugged him during a restaurant party Jan. 29 for singer Sammy Davis Jr.

Judge Kepple denied a new-trial motion, levied the fine in lieu of a 50-day jail term and put Cohen on probation for 2 years. An attorney for Cohen gave notice of appeal. Judge Kepple freed the former gambler on his own recognizance pending the appeal.

Missile May Be Launched Near Chicago

Chicago (AP)—The Army said Wednesday it is studying the possibility of firing a one-ton Nike-Ajax guided missile over Lake Michigan from a site near Chicago.

Brig. Gen. Peter Schmick, commander of missile sites in the Chicago-Gary, Ind., area, said the demonstration would be a way "to let the public know we can shoot from here."

Schmick commands the 45th AAA brigade, with about 3,000 troops at 20 sites. The brigade is charged with missile defense of the heavily industrialized Chicago-Gary area.

The final decision on the firing will be made in the Pentagon, Schmick said.

The missile would be fired in a northeasterly direction, Schmick said, at a radio-controlled airplane. The airplane would be flying "about 15 or 20 miles" offshore, Schmick said, and would not be visible to the naked eye.

200 Man-In-Space Jobs In Works

Dr. Dryden Tells Probe

Washington (AP)—A leading scientist said the United States has in the works some 200 projects for hurtling a man into space.

Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), made the statement in the wake of testimony by Army missileman Wernher Von Braun that he could shoot a man 150 miles into the air and bring him back alive.

Dryden, appearing before the House Committee on Space Problems, didn't criticize Von Braun's proposal directly. But he did say that just propelling a man into the air for a few minutes would be no more valuable scientifically than the circus trick of shooting a girl out of a gun.

Air Force Lt. Gen. D. L. Putt, told the legislators manned space flight "is much closer than you think—a certainty within a relatively short time."

Short Time

In his prepared testimony Putt, deputy chief of staff for development, said this would come about in an "extremely" short time, but in reading the statement he changed it to "relatively."

"It is even possible," the general said, "that some fantastic new device might enable our manned space forces to neutralize or paralyze an aggressor without loss of life or destruction of property."

He said the Air Force could develop a project similar to Von Braun's within a year. But he added that the Air Force has a more advanced project in mind—one which would whirl the space man around the world, satellite-fashion, a few times. This project he said, would take a couple of years to develop.

Von Braun told the committee that, given a go-ahead from the Pentagon, he could launch a man in a one-ton Redstone missile with every assurance he could go up 150 miles, drop back and survive.

Dryden was a bit more cautious.

"I, for one," he said, "will be extremely reluctant to send men into space until their craft have been sufficiently proved to give them a much better than 50-50 chance to survive."

Government Money Methods

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

We wonder now and then if government officials or political scientists have not overlooked one important area of public concern. This is the area of finances from which practically all government problems stem.

Throughout the years, man has changed nearly everything around him. His methods of doing things today are far different than they were in the previous century. No business could survive today if it used the merchandising and buying practices of even 20 years ago. Man's way of life has changed materially. People as a whole are better educated today than in Grandpa's day and the role of the working man in the world has grown to immense proportions.

Growing With The Times

Throughout this period of growth and change, government has also changed in many respects. It has become much more of an exact science and its responsibilities and area of operation have greatly expanded. Today, government frequently touches or influences the daily life of all of us.

But there is one area where government has not changed much in its procedure—the raising of needed revenue. Most certainly, the amounts have gone up but the method has been maintained at about the same level. The general theory has been to tax the heaviest those who can most afford it.

A growing concept is to tax those according to their benefit, such as a wheel tax, but this is still applied in a very general and all-inclusive way. The toll charge for roads and bridges is probably the closest thing to a departure from the routine that has come forth in many years.

Practically all government support in Nebraska at all levels comes from the property tax. A change to a sales or income tax would be different but would still be based on the idea of mass or general taxation. It is obvious to all that while a change in the type of tax might help, it would not solve the problems.

What might come to be more and more popular is a more selective system of taxation which in the past has been used only in isolated cases. Under such a system, one might imagine a home owner paying a special assessment for a fire call or a police call just as they pay now for a building permit or a dog license.

It could come to the point where there would be a charge levied for entering a so-called public park or partaking of certain of the services found within the park. In the field of parks and recreation, particularly, special above-average attractions might be used to pay the way of the more general free offerings such as picnic grounds and play areas.

There conceivably could be an assessment for the repair of street holes or for sweeping the streets. Such a method might be proposed in meeting the expected Dutch Elm Disease. Property owners may be individually assessed for the removal of dead or infected elm trees. Such a theory of taxation, of course, has a lot of shortcomings but where possible, the idea may become more and more prominent.

Assessment For Each Service

It is already used in a number of operations such as new street paving, weed cutting and other direct services. If every government operation were forced to pay its own way through revenue derived from the service it performed, present accepted tax methods would be a thing of the past. While this would be an impossibility in some areas, it has appeal because the individual always knows what he is paying for and thereby accepts the charge more readily.

Time For A Checkup

Residents in this central and most protected region of the country find it difficult to escape a feeling of detatchment in contemplating the nuclear age. They find it a source of science wonder stories and otherwise a high level concern of statecraft and military capability.

The Middle West was largely unmoved when Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson attempted to inject nuclear bomb test control into his campaign. It remains considerably removed from the current international controversy over further tests.

But the effects of fall-out are nearer at hand than many realize.

This week the Des Moines Register noted editorially that Iowa farm ponds have a radioactive content bordering on the dangerous. Ponds are rain fed and drain but little and not frequently. It explained that the rains of recent months have been washing atomic fallout from the skies and the resulting radioactivity is building up in the ponds.

This paper knows of no recent, reliable check up of Nebraska water. But it would be difficult to believe that Nebraska ponds would remain unaffected. Radioactivity does not observe state lines.

Here is a matter Nebraska should get into without delay. If radioactivity has come to Nebraska we should know more about it. If it is insufficient to cause concern we should be reliably reassured. If it is something more than that we should take such steps as are required to reduce the menace. Water is Nebraska's prime element. In this state it goes into food, for food is the state's principal product.

Unjustifiable Delay

Nebraska lost its watershed projects, for the nonce at least, when President Eisenhower vetoed the rivers and harbors bill. But its setback was minor in contrast to the needs of several other regions, California in particular. The latter with much to be done in terms of flood control, and lacking new authorizations now for several years, is threatened with a standstill in an important part of its conservation program.

The President's veto of the bill, his second one because he also vetoed the 1956 measure, is of questionable merit. It was not a bill that provided funds. Rather it was one that would have authorized future projects. Authorization is an essential early step, preceding by years, sometimes, the actual work. A veto is a serious delaying action, not justified by the reason the President gave, namely that the measure contained some projects that were either undeserving or contrary to his administration's policy. Once authorization has been given, it remains for Congress later to judge the urgency and the wisdom of each project. In the Congress itself the nation had sufficient protection against waste and imprudence.

In the Washington environment where immediate concerns emphasize military capability and geopolitics it is easy to lose sight of long range necessities. One of the latter is the improvement of the national household for the long range competition between the East and the West. This cold war is more apt to be lost for lack of economic capability than won with guided missiles. Serious delays in the development and preparation of American natural resources at this moment could be tragically unwise.

Educational Improvement

A day does not go by that a newspaper's mail does not bulge with the finest examples of the printer's art and the writer's skill. They represent the publicity releases of corporations, societies, political movements and the like. Each is aimed at creating a favorable attitude toward its sponsor.

Some may criticize the effort, for certainly the publications are self-seeking, partisan and generally fabulously expensive. But they are not improper in principle. In this free society, each has the right to plead his case, and most institutions, corporate or social, continue successful through inherent worth in which protection of living environment is essential. They do no wrong in pleading the case of an order of things which permitted them to be of such substantial service.

America would spend its time profitably less inclined to inveigh against corporate propaganda than to study and emulate the corporations where the printed word can lead to greater enlightenment. A brochure by the Du Pont company or the National Bituminous Institute is a masterpiece of clarity and instruction, far above the level of the average school text book. It suggests that much can be done for education if the public is willing to invest an adequate amount for the research and writing and art necessary to produce a truly effective textbook. It is characteristic of America that its scholars must convey their essential knowledge to the youth with a great poverty of resources. The result is a text of minimum usefulness and sometimes the reason why Johnnie flunked out of school instead of becoming a savant.

Wouldn't Bite

Last week a team of Junior Chamber of Commerce men in Des Moines selected a novel way of publicizing a special event. Des Moines stores were carrying exhibits of products of the city's industries. The JayCees stuffed packages of new one dollar bills in their pockets, went out on the streets, held up handsfull of them and called on everyone to step up and get his dollar so they could tell about the exhibit.

Hardly anyone would stop. Some people chuckled. Others shook their heads and quite a number hastened away. It took 40 minutes and a lot of hard selling to give away $30. One JayCee pinned a dollar bill to a post. Twenty people gave it a look and then walked away. Fifteen people refused to pick up a 50 cent piece on a sidewalk.

It was all an interesting experiment, and a warning that people are better off if they retain just a little of their original credulity—at least enough to keep alive the spirit of inquiry. Perhaps we are getting close to one of the reasons why Russia is getting the upper hand, and why we show so little political sensitivity these days.

DREW PEARSON

Expected Better Deal From GOP

WASHINGTON—One of the most significant facts which Congressman Celler might develop in his highly revealing investigation of the telephone company is the manner in which the Defense Department, no matter whether Democrats or Republicans are in power, has always gone to bat for big business on antitrust cases.

This has been true under Roosevelt, under Truman, and under Eisenhower. Big business dominates the Defense Department in a manner which would shock the public were all the facts known.

In the field of antitrust, the Defense Department not only creates greater monopoly by channeling 60% of its orders into the hands of 100 companies, but it also goes to bat for these companies when they get into antitrust trouble. Under Roosevelt, the War and Navy Departments requested that 44 antitrust suits be held up by the Justice Department.

☆ ☆ ☆

Most notable intervention under Ike, as revealed by Congressman Celler of Brooklyn, chairman of the Antitrust Subcommittee, was on behalf of the telephone company. After the then ruler of the Pentagon, Charlie Wilson, wrote a letter to his cabinet colleague, Attorney General Brownell, urging him to get rid of the antitrust case brought by Truman against A.T.&T. and its giant subsidiary, Western Electric, Brownell came to heel like one of Charlie's well-trained hunting dogs.

Vice president T. Brooke Price of A.T.&T. told the story in his own words after he had been asked by Brownell to visit him during a legal conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on June 27, 1953—just a few months after the Eisenhower administration came into office.

"He was occupying alone the manager's cottage on the hill above the hotel," Price wrote of Brownell in a secret memo to his A.T.&T. colleagues which he never expected the public to read. "He came out on the porch to meet me and we sat on the porch and talked for twenty-five minutes. Nobody else was present or near.

☆ ☆ ☆

"I had brought with me the memorandum we had recently filed with Judge Barnes (chief of Brownell's antitrust division) presenting our arguments for dismissal of the case; and at this time the policy of the company was to insist on dismissal and not to discuss settlement . . ."

Price then revealed that he expected more out of the Republicans than the Democrats. "I then . . . . told him," he said, "that under the previous (Truman) administration we had temporized by asking for postponement only, but that we were hopeful that he would see his way clear to have the case dropped. He hesitated over this a bit and then asked me to give him the particular items sought in the prayer for relief."

Outright dismissal was a little tough for Brownell to take. He knew he would have trouble with his subordinates getting them to agree.

"As I got up to go," reported Price, "he walked down the steps with me and repeated his statement that it was important to get this case disposed of. He said the President would understand this also and that if a settlement was worked out he could get the President's approval in five minutes.

DORIS FLEESON

Second Veto By The President

WASHINGTON — Any claim that the rivers and harbors bill vetoed by President Eisenhower is an anti-recession measure is as phony as some of the projects listed in it.

Nor is it a fair test of the President's sentiments about government spending to counteract the depression. The President must take responsibility for the big deficits such spending would entail. If he must accept deficits, he no doubt has other preferences about where to incur them which, in his view, would pay bigger dividends in jobs, political steam and public confidence.

What the veto does call into question are the President's grasp of practical politics and his understanding of the development needs of the country.

There is so much logrolling in rivers and harbors legislation that the cynics tend to dismiss it merely as a congressional Christmas tree with something for everybody on it. This is true to a degree, but it is not the whole story.

A rivers and harbors bill is the vehicle by which important, even essential, development of these prized natural resources is carried on. It emerges from Congress with some fancy frosting, but it also contains a lot of yeasty, nourishing dough in the figurative and colloquial sense of that word.

The problem for any president and responsible legislator is to get as much of the dough as possible and as little frosting.

President Eisenhower has met the problem since 1954 by vetoing two rivers and harbors bills approved by Congress, one in 1956 and one this week. This can be described as an act of political courage, since such bills naturally tend to come up in election years.

It also, in the view of many congressmen, including Republicans, has a strong flavor of throwing the baby out with the bath. For example, flooded California has run out of authorizations in some of its river basins during the four-year lapse in legislation.

The President has not suggested a better way, which has a reasonable chance of success, to continue the developments which are desirable in the bills he vetoes. Conservationists are correspondingly downcast, and they come from both parties.

A conservation footnote to the four-year lag in this field: the rivers of the Soviet Union which flow to the sea are greater than those here; the Soviets are engaged in 44 major starts on river projects and innumerable minor ones.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

And Finally, A Champion

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

This is a story of perseverance.

Mrs. Carl Fisher of 2703 Winthrop has had a bulldog of greater or lesser standing in the dog world for approximately 20 years. She has owned at least five different adults during those 20 years. But not one of those ever got very far in competition.

Finally in the last year and a half, Mrs. Fisher has produced a show dog champion.

What does it mean to have a champion bulldog? There is at most one other in Nebraska. She estimates one in 200 bulldogs born are suitable for showing. Out of thousands of bulldogs shown each year, Mrs. Fisher said only about 50 become champions.

The animal that finally brought Mrs. Fisher success in the show rings is "Maid of Corn Cobs," known around the house as "Maid."

The Fishers acquired her at a Kansas City, Mo., show where she was shown as a pup. Maid was 11 months old then.

Ironically she climaxed her career in the same town in which she began it. Several weeks ago she was awarded the five points that completed her championship when she was judged best of winners in the Kansas City show. Now at 2½ she is retired.

☆ ☆ ☆

Fifteen points are required for a dog to become a champion. But these points may not be won in any old dog show. The dog must win in at least two different American Kennel Club sanctioned shows big enough to award three points or more to the winners.

For instance, Mrs. Fisher said, the Cornhusker Kennel Club show Sunday at the State Fairgrounds will probably not be large enough to allow more than two points for the winner.

A third stipulation is that the points accumulated must be won under more than one judge.

MAID OF CORN COBS AND THE KANSAS CITY TROPHY . . . those ferocious features are deceiving . . .

To begin the eliminations all dogs are divided into five classes — puppy, novice, American bred, bred by exhibitor, and open.

The first place winners in the classes compete in the Winners show. However, the only winner of the classes that counts toward championship scoring is the open class.

A winner for each sex is chosen in each class, then one of the two is named winner in the class.

After winners in the breeds are decided, the top dogs compete against the others in their group. The groups are: sporting, hounds, working, terriers, toys, and non-sporting.

The best in each group competes for the best-in-show award which is the highest award given in the show.

☆ ☆ ☆

To illustrate, Maid was entered in the puppy class when Mrs. Fisher first saw her. While she was being trained, if Mrs. Fisher so desired, Maid could have been entered in novice (not yet a finished dog, in its master's opinion) or American bred (bred in United States). When Mrs. Fisher considered Maid ready, the dog was entered in the open class. Any wins in other classes Maid might have scored counted nothing. But once she won an open class she was on her way.

Maid, even though at 60 pounds she is big and muscular as bulldogs go, shows few of the traits common to her breed as it was known in the days when bulldogs served the purpose for which they were bred.

Bred to torment bulls in English rings, the dogs were developed into the barrel-chested, short-legged, heavy-jawed canines still seen. But along with their ferocious contours, they also had highly belligerent dispositions.

Maid has retained only the physical attributes of her ancestors. She sleeps most of the day and almost refuses to be annoyed by anything.

After bull fighting was outlawed in 1773, Mrs. Fisher explains, the breed almost disappeared. When the drive to save the breed came about 1880, bulldogs had lost most of their ferocity.

Now bulldogs are prized chiefly as house pets. And now that Maid has few worlds to conquer, she is destined to fill no more important role than that.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I want to take this opportunity to thank The Star staff for the wonderful job they did for baseball. Without all the kind help and boosting, the job would have been much harder.

It is certainly gratifying to have such people behind a city project. I don't know of any other city that had more publicity for baseball than the city of Lincoln. Again thanks for the wonderful help.

The Minority

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When I read of the accidental burning of a Negro home, I was completely shocked. But was it an accident? My feelings are of denial, sadness, and mostly pity for the people who rejected the living of a colored family in their neighborhood. May I ask who gave them the right to judge others because their color was different? Certainly not because they enjoy the freedom of speech as a citizen of this country, because for what they did they aren't worthy of such a high honor. May I say I am certainly glad I don't know their names or their faces, but I think we should have the privilege of knowing why they believe themselves better than the others?

It is always a small group of irrational people that make us, the majority, glad we aren't over-prideful. For it is the majority that counts and not the minority, and I thank God our nation is made up of more of us who accept people regardless of their race, color or creed.

I hope those responsible can continue their life with no feeling of guilt and shame for what they done, but I doubt if they'll find that easy.

21-YEAR-OLD

☆ ☆ ☆

Earning Trust

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I hope "A Teen-Ager" will reread her letter very carefully and quite critically. She is asking for trust and approval to do the things in the open that she is now doing on the sly. Doesn't she realize that trust on the part of her parents also calls for responsibility on her part? Trust is earned, not given.

I wish she would stop and consider what happened to a 14-year-old recently because of dating a 19-year-old. Even if the boy is very nice, the emotional development at this stage is too great. Some day this teen-ager and all the others are going to be grown, meet the right man, marry and have children. If only they could realize what a wonderful experience this can be if they have kept themselves fit in body and mind for it.

This teen-ager's parents are not responsible for delinquency. They are some of the few fighting it. At least they care. It's those who don't care and are too busy with their own lives who are responsible — parents such as Lana Turner.

Teen-agers can be very wonderful people. They are no different from the rest of us and I for one like them very much.

A YOUNG MOTHER

☆ ☆ ☆

Give And Take

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If only the young people today could know what mothers and fathers go through in worrying, they wouldn't be so quick to judge them all as old fuddy-duddies. A teen-ager who wrote in recently complained bitterly that her folks didn't trust her, and always wanted to know where she was going and with whom, and made life difficult when she was later in getting home than she promised.

It's got to be a give-and-take affair between parent and child. It isn't asking too much to know where a youngster plans to spend an evening. And if the young person sees the evening fun lengthening out, it isn't asking too much for that boy or girl just to step to a telephone and call home, saying they'll be a little late. These young people will be parents themselves some day and know what it is to lie awake, staring into the darkness, imagining all kinds of things. It would take such a little effort on the youngsters' part to do away with this kind of worry.

If the teen-agers will volunteer their plans and be just a little co-operative with family ties, I think they'll find out that their parents are happy and more than willing to go along with them. It would make for better feeling on both sides, and everyone concerned would feel a lot better about it.

Omaha Streets

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If Lincoln car owners believe that a wheel tax would fill the chuck holes, they ought to go to Omaha and drive around on the Omaha streets. They would become convinced that the mere collection of a wheel tax does not fill the chuck holes.

Omaha has collected a wheel tax for a number of years and there is still nothing in the way of better streets to show where the wheel tax money went.

Eccles Favors Tax Cut Of $6 Billion

Washington (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, Federal Reserve Board chief in the Roosevelt-Truman era, called for a tax cut of 6 to 7 billion dollars.

Eccles

Eccles, whose views still carry much weight in the Democrat-controlled Congress, appeared before the Senate Finance Committee in its search for ways to overcome the recession.

He said it is generally recognized that the government must act, and added:

"I strongly favor the tax program over the public works because that action can be taken more promptly and the effect would be more immediate."

While Eccles was testifying, Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) struck out at Republicans who are trying to whittle down a bill to lend a billion dollars at low rates to states and cities for municipal public works construction.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, accused the Republicans of adopting delaying tactics as a party matter.

There were these other recession developments in Congress:

1. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the GOP leader, said Congress may vote some adjustments in federal sales taxes but he doesn't look for a general tax reduction. President Eisenhower, at his news conference, gave no indication he has any present plans to ask Congress for such a reduction.

2. Sen. Johnson said he would need some time to determine whether to try to override Eisenhower's veto yesterday of a big water projects authorization bill.

3. A House agriculture subcommittee opened hearings on various bills which would set up a government food stamp plan for distribution of government-owned food surpluses to the needy. A stamp plan was in effect in the depression of the 1930s.

Miller Finds Constituent 'Contentment'

Washington, C.D. — People in Nebraska's Fourth District have a feeling of "considerable contentment and satisfaction," Rep. A. L. Miller said.

The Kimball congressman toured his District in a 10-day trip during the congressional Easter recess.

Dr.Miller said his constituents generally said "no broad tax cut is advisable at this time."

Other observations: people "suspicious" of crash programs; concern about increased military spending; approval of President's "request for reforming the Pentagon and all the military;" approval of expanded highway planning, flood control, reclamation and new or remodeled Post Offices.

Miller announced new post offices are now planned for Greeley, Gering, Hemingford, Mitchell and Mullen and a parcel post annex for Kearney.

53% Favor Summit Meet —Cunningham

Washington, D.C. — Nebraskans in the Second District answering Rep. Glenn Cunningham's recent questionnaire indicated they favor a summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Soviet leaders, Cunningham announced.

However, many pointed out they favor a meeting only on the President's terms. Fifty-three per cent favored the meeting.

Other poll results from the Omaha-dominated district:

—65% favor substantial reduction of foreign aid.

—80% oppose tax reduction if it would mean an unbalanced budget.

—58% oppose balanced budget "regardless of defense needs."

—65% do not think Agriculture Secretary Benson should resign.

—52% favor extension of the reciprocal trade program.

—88% favor additional federal control over labor unions.

Most constituents who answered the Cunningham questionnaires listed government spending as the issue which concerned them most.

In a breakdown of results by occupation, 42% of farmers said they thought Benson should resign, 48% said no and 12% listed no opinion, Cunningham said.

Beth Dering To National Youth Safety Meeting

Beth Dering, University High junior, has been named to attend the National Youth Safety Leadership Conference to be held Friday and Saturday at Kansas City, Mo.

She will represent the Lincoln Youth Council and all teenagers in Nebraska at the conference. She is scheduled to fly to the meeting Friday morning.

Miss Dering has been active in the Lincoln Youth Council and other youth activities. She was delegated to the national meeting by the Nebraska Traffic Safety Foundation and Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dering of 1202 New Hampshire.

Trip expenses were contributed by the Firestone Foundation, according to the local safety council.

Margretha Is 18

Vinson Pounces On Plan

Great Debate Seems To Be Developing

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower sent to Congress Wednesday his detailed plan for increasing sharply the power of the secretary of defense. Immediately, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) denounced it as a move toward "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Rep. Vinson

Vinson is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee which will begin open hearings on the plan next Monday with Secretary of Defense McElroy as the first witness. In a House speech, Vinson touched off what could develop into a great debate by saying the plan would reduce the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force to bookkeeping superintendents.

Won't Be Stampeded

"Space ships, satellites and guided missiles," he said, "cannot abrogate the Constitution of the United States" nor stampede Congress.

Vinson's sharp words threw down the challenge to Eisenhower, who has said he will fight for his plan no matter how vigorously it is opposed.

The President, in sending his plan to Congress, left out the part that has so far been the most criticized. He said he will detail next year his proposal for giving the secretary of defense "greater flexibility in money matters."

Eisenhower at his news conference, however, took great pains to insist that he had never suggested that Congress give the defense chief control over all defense funds. Part of the criticism of the past 2 weeks had been based on the impression that was what he had in mind.

President Criticized

Vinson, in his hour-long speech, said Eisenhower had blamed the laws of Congress for the shortcomings of the military without admitting that "even a few of our defense deficiencies are the result of failure of leadership and direction on the part of the appointed officials in the Pentagon."

New Waverly School Ready By '59

Bids will probably be accepted within the next 4 or 5 months on construction of the new Waverly Consolidated School addition, approved by voters of the Lancaster County district this week. This is an architect's drawing of the new structure which will adjoin the old school building. Supt. Sam Metcalfe said the new building will be ready for use in the 1959-1960 school year. He credited a citizen's committee, headed by Carl Swanson, for much of the success of the passage of the school proposal. Twice before the issue was rejected at the polls.

Mrs. Harmon, 87, Dies; Former Cotner Professor

Des Moines (AP)—Mrs. Alice Gadd Harmon, 87, a former professor of sociology at Cotner College in Lincoln, Neb., and later dean of Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky., died at her home in Cable, Wis., Tuesday.

Services and burial will be Saturday at Cable.

A graduate of Cotner College, Mrs. Harmon was the mother of Dr. Henry G. Harmon, president of Drake University.

She was a member of the Congregational Church in Cable.

Surviving are daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Bro of Chicago, Mrs. N. B. Dexter of Ashland, Wis., and Mrs. John S. Riffe of Kansas City, Mo.; 11 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Churchill Down With Cold Again

London (INS)—Sir Winston Churchill, 83, is down with a cold again.

A spokesman at his estate in Chartwell, Kent, said his condition is not serious. But his physician wants him to keep to his room for a while.

The former prime minister has been trying to shake off effects of a bout with pneumonia and pleurisy 2 months ago.

He recently returned to England from a vacation on the French Riviera. But he got little sunshine there because of his illness.

200 Attend 1st Knights Templar Day

More than 200 Knights and ladies attended the opening night Past Commander's annual conclave of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Nebraska Wednesday evening, according to Dr. Donald Keys, Grand Commander of Nebraska.

A devotional service was held in the evening at First Presbyterian Church for the Masons, with Frank E. Pfoutz, Grand Prelate, delivering the address.

Dr. Keys said that about 600 York Rite Masons, representing some 5,000 Knights Templar of the state, are expected at Thursday meetings.

Charles O. Showalter of Omaha and Roy W. Reigle of Emporia, Kan., representing the national organization, the Grand Encampment, are among the honored guests. Commandery representatives from Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota, Colorado and Minnesota are also expected to attend the conclave, due to end Friday with election of officers.

A luncheon for wives of commandery members will be held at the Lincoln Hotel at 11:30 a.m. Thursday. A memorial service will be held at the Masonic Temple, 1635 L, at 1:30 p.m.

The Order of Malta will be conferred Thursday afternoon, and a banquet will be held Thursday evening at 7 p.m., at the Scottish Rite Temple, 332 So. 15th St.

Omaha Homicide Ruled Justifiable

Omaha (AP)—A Douglas County coroner's jury Wednesday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the slaying of Frank Lee Jones, 44, Omaha, by Jones' son, Donald Gordon. The Joneses are Negroes.

The elder Jones was shot to death Sunday night and his son, 15, said the shooting followed a threat by the father to kill his wife. The shots came from a small pistol owned by the father.

Donald Gordon said the shooting came after he and his father had fought and the father had broken away to get a shotgun.

Harrison Pleads Guilty To Knife Slaying Of Gary

Omaha (AP) — Harry Benjamin Harrison, Omaha, pleaded guilty in District Court to a charge of second degree murder in the Apr. 4 knife slaying of John Welts Gary.

Harrison, 25, admitted entering the apartment of Gary's girl friend, Janis McCaw, and stabbing Gary to death with a butcher knife.

District Judge James E. English deferred sentence.

Deputy County Attorney Arthur D. O'Leary filed the second degree murder charge directly in District Court. Charges of first degree murder and murder in commission of a crime had been filed in municipal court but Harrison was not bound over to District Court.

The second degree murder charge to which Harrison pleaded guilty stated that he "maliciously, and purposely, but without premeditation and deliberation," stabbed Gary.

The law provides for a prison term of from 10 years to life on conviction of second degree murder.

AF Becomes First Service To Announce Support Of Reorganization Plan

St. Louis (AP) — The Air Force became the first service to announce full support for President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said his service "is wholeheartedly in accord" with the President's proposal. He said it "will be of great benefit to the security of our country" in that it will ally technical progress and the efficient use of modern weapons to a modern, efficient military organization structure.

White announced the Air Force position on the controversial reorganization plan in a speech before the American Odnance Assn.

The military chiefs of the other 2 services, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor of the Army and Adm. Arleigh Burke of the Navy, have maintained official silence on the President's demand for concentrating more power in the Secretary of Defense and in the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Secretary of Defense McElroy announced last week that he could "see no excuse" for any military or civilian defense official to volunteer opposition to Eisenhower's proposal.

White said a modern organization is "just as necessary as are modern weapons and equipment." He voiced his belief that the nation's defense will "profit through more efficient utilization of the manpower, skills, talent and experience now available to all these services."

White pictured the Air Force as the natural operator of space weapons and vehicles. He said it is through air and space that the new weapons capitalize on "speed, range, flexibility and surprise," and because of the Air Force experience in flight and the outer reaches of the atmosphere "space is but a continuation of the Air Force's natural element."

The Army, since its successful launching of 2 earth satellites and development of the Jupiter intermeditae range ballistic missile which will be used by the Air Force, has been assigned part of the mission to send exploratory vehicles toward the moon. The Navy, in its development of the submarine-launched Polaris intermediate ballistic missile, also has sought to stake out a space mission.

White forecast the perfection of much longer ranged missiles that can be launched from bombers against critical targets "as far as a thousand miles distant."

Three-Fifths Of Nation's 5.2 Million Jobless Located In Just 8 States

By Norman Walker

Washington (AP)—Which states and industries are hurting most from unemployment? The answers can be pinpointed from government job data for March.

A study of Commerce and Labor Departments job reports shows this:

Three out of 5 of the nation's 5,200,000 workers made idle by the recession are located in just 8 states — New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and California.

Hardest hit are Maine and Michigan, each with about 14% unemployed, followed by West Virginia, Kentucky and Montana, each with about 13%. Least affected by unemployment is the District of Columbia, where government is the biggest business.

New York, Pennsylvania and California, in that order, have the greatest numbers of workers without jobs, but lesser percentages of their work forces idled than some other states such as Michigan and Maine.

Most severely hit of all industries is construction. One out of 5 construction workers was idle in March, a situation apparently improving somewhat in April with better weather conditions.

The unemployed include one out of every 7 workers in transportation equipment manufacturing, which means mainly the auto factories; and one out of every 8 workers in the railroad, steel and mining industries.

Out of every 100 unemployed workers 36 came out of the factories, 16 out of wholesale or retail trade, 15 from construction, 13 out of service industries, 12 off the railroads and other forms of transportation, communications and public utilities; 5 from the farms, 2 from public administration, and one from mining.

The auto industry had a 14.5% unemployment toll in March compared with 3.1% a year earlier.

The state breakdowns showed Nebraska for the week ending March 29 had 11,728 insured workers without jobs or 5.2% rate of idleness.

High Court Asked For Reversal In Work Injury Suit

A brief was filed with the State Supreme Court asking the high court to reverse a Lancaster County District Court decision involving workmen's compensation benefits sought by Frances Bauer.

The brief said the district court erred in finding Frances Bauer had failed to sustain the burden of proof necessary to show that injuries she suffered while in the course of her employment occurred under circumstances as to entitle her to benefits of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Law.

Defendant in the case was the State Savings and Loan Assn.

Eisenhower Disagrees Sharply With Truman

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower took aim at Harry S. Truman Wednesday and said he never would go for a program that might "flood the country with money" and shoot prices upward.

Eisenhower again held back on any immediate tax cut to pump up purchasing power and combat the recession. He told a news conference he has made his position crystal clear—this business of a tax cut will be taken up when he can be convinced it "will be for the benefit of the United States."

The chief executive also erected caution and slow signs in the path of public works legislation, whereas former President Truman is urging heavier spending on works projects.

Truman's Proposal

Truman told a House committee Monday the recession is very serious and proposed a 5 billion dollar tax cut for middle and low income families. He said this could be offset by wiping out special tax privileges, closing tax law loopholes, and bringing down interest payments on the national debt.

And, of course, Eisenhower was asked about the views of his predecessor. He said he wasn't commenting on anybody else's recommendations and suggestions—then proceeded to comment.

After restating his position on taxes, Eisenhower picked out the point of fixing or lowering interest rates on the debt. This would have to be done by a federal board, he said, and "they would have to, if necessary, flood the country with money to keep that rate at a sustained basis. This means with that kind of money running around, then prices have to go up."

Other Topics

Running through the news conference were such additional topics as:

Golf—The President was told that Rep. Wright (D-Tex) says Eisenhower would see the great need for legislation to help communities build public works if he would lay off some of his golf and visit some small cities.

"I don't know who the congressman is," Eisenhower replied, "but I'll tell you this: I have probably—I have visited many, many more small towns, villages and farms than he has."

Acheson—Eisenhower said that he has agreed from the beginning with the view of Dean Acheson, secretary of state under Truman, that participation of a President in summit conferences impairs the chief executive's ability to judge with detachment. But he added that "I am still ready to take the risks" if there is any real promise for bringing about a forward step.

Pentagon reorganization—Never, Eisenhower said, has he advocated a single lump sum appropriation for defense, to the secretary of defense, as part of a Pentagon reorganization plan. He upheld the right of top officers to voice convictions of personal disapproval of the plan before congressional committees, but not in public speeches which would reflect insubordination.

VFW Post 8009 Auxiliary Installs

Patricia Forcier was installed for a second term as president of VFW Post 8009 Auxiliary by Deputy Chief of Staff Dorothy Mooberry.

Other officers installed are: Esther McKinney, senior vice president; Gertie Shew, junior vice president; Myrtle McIntosh, treasurer; Lucille Wallin, secretary; Lillie Young, chaplain; Nanie Munson, guard; Ingabord Madsen, assistant guard.

Marie Downs, Betty Miller, Theora Pickard, Nettie Peitsch, color bearers; Geraldine Parsons, patriotic instructor; Anna Mae Kaar, flag bearer; Marie Chadd, banner bearer; Alma Long, historian; Theora Pickard, 3-year trustee; Arlene Baker, conductress, and Wilma Zavadil, musician.

Two Airmen Die In Fighter Crash

Summerdale, Ala. (INS) — Two naval airmen were killed Wednesday when their T-34 fighter plane crashed near Summerdale.

The single-engine plane, stationed at Suafley Air Field in Alabama, crashed in a rural area 6 miles northeast of Summerdale, near the Florida border.

Naval authorities said the cause of the mishap was not immediately known. Names of the dead were temporarily withheld.

SAR Hears A Call For Rededication

The Rev. Gustav Ferre urged rededication to the principles of freedom that moved such men as George Washington to forego the luxuries of his wealth and ride off to fight for a better future.

The Rev. Mr. Ferre spoke at a dinner meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution Wednesday night.

Drawing on the writings of philosopher Gabriel Marcel, he said the joy of life is gone in the modern world because the concepts of soul, eternity and love, as Marcel defined them, are lost.

He criticized modern man for his lack of desire to learn about the past, apply his knowledge to the present and work toward a better future. This is in contrast, he said, to the revolution which was primarily a drive for a better future regardless of the cost to those living in the present.

Estes

In the business meeting preceeding the talk Forrest Estes was reelected president of the Lincoln chapter of the society. Robert P. Smith is vice president and Henry M. Cox is secretary-treasurer.

Charlie Is 69

Vevey, Switzerland (AP) — Charlie Chaplin is 69. The British film comedian celebrated at a family party with his wife and their 6 children.

Coty Seeks A Premier

. . . Outlook Gloomy

Paris (AP) — President Rene Coty began Wednesday night a search for some sort of parliamentary coalition to govern France, amid gloomy predictions of a long-term cabinet crisis.

Rene Coty

With Premier Felix Gaillard's 5-month-old cabinet routed by the combined attack of Conservatives and Communists on a wave of anti-American sentiment, the President's search for a National Assembly majority promised to be an anguished one.

Important and even painful consequences of this new crisis lay ahead for France, and most political observers seemed pessimistic.

2 Reformatory Inmates Escape

Two inmates escaped Wednesday night from the Men's Reformatory while they were working along the highway near the institution, officials said.

They are Richard Hyatt, 20, and Ronald J. Jordan, 21, both of Omaha. The pair were serving 5-7 year terms for burglary, having been sentenced for the same offense.

Early reports indicated they might have boarded a train.

DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

There is a fine and mysterious feeling between a small boy and a cow. And on the first sunny days of Spring, we go in search of cows.

The cows hang over the fence and look at the small boy.

The small boy hangs out the car window and looks at the cow—we stop the car and I keep a grip on the seat of his pants.

Across the strip of green grass and the barbwire fence, love is established.

"Hi, cow!"

The cow does not reply. But you can see by the look in her eye she is thinking loving thoughts.

☆ ☆ ☆

If you have a very small boy, the search for cows can go on all day. Each new cow is as delightful as the very first one.

If there are whole herds of cows, we take them one by one. It takes time but is worth every loving glance. Horses come next. After that, sheep. Then ducks.

I would like to find a place where they milk cows. All small boys should have that experience. The cow standing peacefully in the dark barn. And the man with his head against the cow's side and the milk going into the pail with that wonderful hissing sound.

I think cows hand over their milk to machines these days. But when I was a small boy in love with cows, they milked by hand. While the cow was being milked, all the farm cats stood around meowing.

☆ ☆ ☆

The cows we see in the pasture these days are mainly brown and white. Just like the nursery ryhme of the cow "I love with all my heart . . . she gives me cream with all her might . . . to eat with apple tart."

I am teaching this to my son. And one of these days will find a place where they milk cows. And give some to the cats. And so this great emotion will not be lost.

After the milking, the pails were emptied in a sort of wash tub (when I was fond of cows). The cream gathered on top and was skimmed off. Grandpa said you could lift it off "like a pair of britches."

☆ ☆ ☆

While this child is absorbing cows, I would not want him to grow up without seeing cream come off the top "like a pair of britches."

Cows have become subject to automation, like everything else. But I imagine somewhere there is a cow and a milker. And a set of tortoise shell cats and a dark barn with a hayloft.

☆ ☆ ☆

I find in my cow file that the champion cow of our Nation is named Bessie. She lives at Princeton, N.J. Last year, she manufactured—that is the word they use around cows these days—manufactured 14,496 quarts of milk. Also 1930 pounds of butter.

This is a splendid record. But it is a terrible waste of milk if all they did was put it in waxed cartons and deliver it to front doors.

With 14,496 quarts of milk, you could entertain heaven knows how many small boys. To say nothing of cats.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, that is the way we spend our Spring days. In rich and satisfying emotion between boy and cow. I have lost the touch, myself. I look at the cow and the cow looks at me. Something has been there. But it is gone.

But when the boy looks at the cow and the cow looks at the boy, I remember. Oh, yes, I remember that.

New NROTC Commander Named At NU

The appointment of Capt. James R. Hansen as professor of naval science and commanding officer of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps unit was announced Wednesday at the University of Nebraska.

Captain Hansen, at present commanding officer of the U.S.S. Guadalupe, operating with the 7th Fleet in the Sea of Japan, will relieve Capt. T. A. Donovan, who has completed his 3-year term of duty.

Captain Hansen will arrive in Lincoln about Sept. 1 to assume duties.

Captain Hansen was graduated and commissioned ensign in 1936 from the U.S. Naval Academy.

He was awarded service medals for action in the Pacific Theater during World War II and in the Korean area in 1953, including the Navy Cross, the nation's 2nd highest award, for an action in which the USS Morrison, which he was commanding, was sunk by the enemy in May of 1945.

Capt. Hansen is married and has 2 daughters, Nancy and Susan.

Former LAFB Man Decorated For Heroism

The Soldier's Medal has been awarded to Joe B. Williams, a former staff sergeant at Lincoln Air Force Base, for his actions following a ground collision involving 3 aircraft.

Williams a former 345th Bomb Squadron crew chief, was decorated for, "distinguishing himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life on Nov. 17, 1956, when an F80 burst into flames after colliding on the ground with 2 B47 aircraft," according to the citation.

He aided 2 airmen whose clothes had been set afire and prevented the flaming fuel from the planes from spreading to the refueling pits, the Air Force reports stated.

The award is being sent to Williams at Cambridge City, Ind., where he now resides.

WEATHER AHEAD

Temperatures will average 5 to 10 degrees above normal over Nebraska during the next 5 days with no important daily changes indicated. Normal afternoon highs range from the low to middle 60s, and normal morning lows from the low 30s to the low 40s. Little or no precipitation is expected.

17 Nursing Homes Visited In Survey Of Facilities

Some 17 nursing homes have been visited by State Health Department nurses making a survey of nursing home facilities in Nebraska, Emily Brickley, state director of public health nursing, reported.

Miss Brickley said an additional 353 homes will be visited by July 1 during the survey proposed by the State Health Department.

Homes have been visited in Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, Madison, Columbus, Norfolk and Schuyler.

Homes to be visited this week are in York, Exeter, Geneva, and Fairmont, Superior and Nelson nursing homes are slated to be visited next week.

Supplement Staff

Miss Brickley said she hopes to supplement her present staff of 4 visiting nurses to 5. The 5th nurse would be employed solely in Omaha.

The survey already has shown that the average nursing home in Nebraska has approximately 15 to 20 beds. Miss Brickley estimated there are currently some 7,000 nursing home beds in the state, and that indications point to even more in the not too distant future.

"It's a fast growing business," she said, adding that there were 66 nursing homes in the state in 1950, compared to 370 as of Apr. 1 this year.

She estimated that 168 of the homes are currently members of the Nebraska Nursing Home Operators Assn.

Lincoln, Omaha Economic Picture Said To Be Bright

Speakers at an Omaha meeting of the Omaha-Lincoln Marketing Assn., described the economic picture in the 2 cities as "bright."

Eugene Reece, a vice president of the First National Bank of Lincoln, said "loan demand is down and you can't make people borrow money. Interest rates are going down. Over-saving and under-spending are big problems."

The Rev. Richard L. Porter of Creighton University said the Omaha-Lincoln situation is better than the national average because national factors don't tend to operate in this area.

He explained that when the area was drought stricken people weren't buying, but now with better weather conditions the people are buying things that others in the area hit hardest by recession already have.

Theater Date Set

Stratford, Ont. (AP)—Princess Margaret is to see a performance of "the Winter Tale" at the Stratford Shakespearean Festival Theater here July 31.

ED PSYCH CLINIC SET AT YORK

An educational psychology clinic will be held Thursday in York, under the sponsorship of the University of Nebraska and the State Department of Education, Dr. Marshall S. Hiskey, clinic director, announced.

Purpose of the clinic is to determine the eligibility of certain public school children for participation in special educational programs and to help diagnosis school learning difficulties found in children enrolled in regular classes, according to Dr. Hiskey.

Accompanying Dr. Hiskey, who is professor of educational psychology and measurements at the University, will be: Joseph M. Sadnavitch, Miss Emily A. Reuwsaat and Hans Steffen, both from the Department of Educational Psychology and Measurements; Miss Lois Olive, general counselor in the University Counseling Service, and Gaylen Dodge, consultant in special education for the State Department of Education.

Similar clinics will be held during May in Kearney and Hastings.

Thirty-four newsmen from 13 European nations will arrive Apr. 25 for a 3-day visit in Lincoln, the only major civilian stop scheduled on a 4-week tour of the United States.

The visit in Lincoln was scheduled to give the journalists an opportunity to see "average American life."

The tour is sponsored jointly by the U.S. Department of State, the Air Force, the U.S. Information Agency and the Governmental Affairs Institute of Washington, D.C.

The remainder of scheduled stops on the trip are devoted mostly to military activities.

The journalists represent the major newspaper, radio and television stations of Belgium, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain and Turkey.

The newsmen will arrive in the United States Saturday. On Monday, Apr. 21, they will meet with various congressmen in Washington, including Nebraska Sen. Roman Hruska.

Upon arrival in Lincoln at the Lincoln Air Force Base Friday (Apr. 25) evening, the foreign journalists will be greeted by Mayor Bennett Martin and a representative from the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Gov. Victor Anderson will meet with the group Monday, Apr. 28.

At noon Monday, the journalists will be guests of the Executive Club of Lincoln at its luncheon meeting at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Other events on the program include visits to KOLN-TV and KUON-TV, the University of Nebraska's educational television station.

The group will visit Wesleyan University Sunday and be welcomed by Dr. Vance D. Rogers, new president.

Other activities include the Miss Nebraska Pageant at Pershing Municipal Auditorium Saturday, Apr. 26; a visit to the University of Nebraska tractor testing laboratory, and a visit to the University's city campus, during which the School of Journalism will be host.

Arrangements are being made to have the members of the group invited individually into Lincoln homes for Sunday dinner.

Accompanying the newsmen will be representatives from the London and Paris offices of the USIA, 2 Air Force officers and 2 photographers.

Other stops on the tour include Philadelphia, the DuPont Company in Wilmington, Del., Ft. Bliss, Los Angeles, the Douglas Aircraft Company, Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha, Eglin Air Force Base, Patrick Air Force Base, Cape Canaveral, Langley Air Force Base and New York City.

Lishner To Be Featured In Art Galleries Concert

Leon Lishner, baritone and associate professor of music at the University of Nebraska will be featured in an experimental concert program to be presented by the University Art Galleries Thursday evening.

The public concert will be held at 8:30 p.m. at Morrill Hall.

Norman Geske, director of the Galleries, said this is the 1st time that a musical program has been scheduled in the Galleries. A play reading, "The Great God Brown," is planned later this month.

Leon Lishner, who has appeared on Broadway and national television, will sing the seldom-performed "Dichterliebe," by Schumann. At the University, Mr. Lishner has appeared in "Manfred," by Schumann; "Mass in G," by Schubert; and "Elegy for a Dead Soldier," by Beadell.

Hinshaw, who has had an extensive professional career, will play piano works by Byrd, Purcell, and Charles Ives. From 1952-55, Hinshaw was Igor Gorin's accompanist. He also soloed for Gorin's concerts, which took the pair over most of the U.S. and Canada. He joined the University staff in 1956.

Recession, Foreign Policy To Be Studied By Editors

Washington (INS)—A sampling of the views of many of the nation's leading editors showed that the major issues of the day are the recession and foreign policy.

The 2 topics are expected to be the main themes of the convention of more than 450 members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) in Washington.

The editors talked about business, foreign policy and a number of other subjects among themselves.

Typical of some of the comments in a poll of the newspapermen were:

George W. Healy Jr., of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, incoming president of ASNE: 'We haven't felt tangible evidence of the business slowdown. Our problem has been the weather. National security is the major issue. We very strongly believe in the reciprocal trade program."

Bright Spots

Felix R. McKnight of the Dallas Times-Herald: "Although we felt a little of the recession in the last 90 days, Dallas and Ft. Worth are bright spots. Department store sales are up. On the political front, we are beginning to hear rumblings of discontent on President Eisenhower's domestic and foreign policies, particularly what to do with the inflationary living costs."

Kenneth S. Conn of the San Jose, Cal., Mercury and News: "Except in the automobile lines, we haven't felt the recession in our part of the country. In my opinion, reorganization of the Defense Department is the most important question facing the country. There has been too much waste of money and effort on offensive weapons and not enough stress on defensive weapons. I would go along with the President. . . because if anyone knows the situation he should."

Frank S. Baker, publisher of the Tacoma, Wash., News Tribune: "I don't think the Northwest has been hit as hard as lots of other places. I'm rather inclined to support the President on going slow on a tax cut. I also don't think the government should undertake a major public works program. If we jump out with all the crackpot things we would go too strong."

Patient Care StudyRequest System Told

The Nebraska Joint Commission for Improvement of Patient Care Wednesday was told how it could bring study requests to the Legislative Council for its consideration.

Dr. Jack Rodgers, research director for the Council, described what the Council is, how it operates, how it can be contacted and how it decides what it is to study between sessions of the Legislature.

The Commission has indefinite plans to take recommendations for study on the needs of trained personnel in various health fields before the Legislature for study by the Legislative Council after the 1958-59 session, Miss Emily Brickley of Lincoln, secretary-treasurer, said.

The Commission, in its second year, was formed to "stimulate, implement, assist in and sponsor activities contributing to the care of patients."

It represents the Nebraska State Medical Assn., the Nebraska Hospital Assn., the Nebraska State League for Nursing and the Nebraska State Nurses Assn.

The group, composed of 4 representatives from each affiliated agency, is headed by Dr. E. A. Steenberg of Aurora.

Wheat Growers With Acre Limits To Keep History

All wheat growers in Lancaster County with an acreage allotment for 1958 wheat can ease their minds, for they will not lose history due to overplanting.

A 1957 federal law, approved by President Eisenhower, stated that all farms with excess wheat in 1958 would lose their base acreage, and the planted acreage would be listed as history for that year.

That's not the case any more. On April 4, a new law was passed, and approved by the President, stating that all wheat farms with an acreage allotment will receive full credit for their 1958 base. The change was made because wheat growers had not been notified prior to the 1958 planting.

This law, however, applies to 1958 wheat only.

Claims Rejected

Berlin (AP) — Soviet Russia rejected claims of the Big 3 western powers that they can limit Soviet plane flights over West Germany.

The ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France in West Germany, in an exchange of letters with Soviet authorities, had stressed the right of their governments to control over the Russian flights.

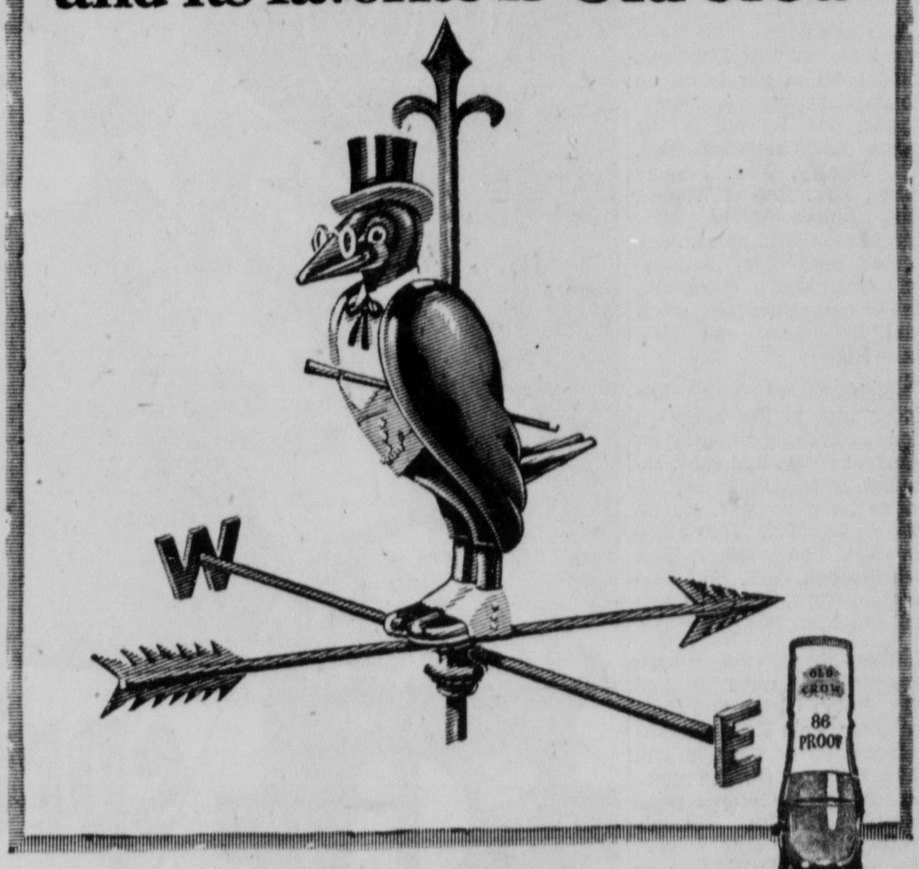
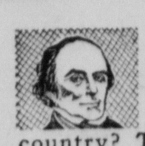
America knows its bourbon and its favorite is Old Crow



Light, mild 86 proof Old Crow by far outsells any bourbon in the land



Why does one bourbon outsell every other bourbon in the country? The answer is: Americans know their bourbon. They always have. A century ago, Daniel Webster flatly called Old Crow... "the finest in the world." Webster, Henry Clay, Mark Twain—giants of history—all prized Old Crow. Today their number is multiplied by the millions. The lightness, mildness and incomparable flavor of 86 Proof Old Crow truly make it "the finest Kentucky whiskey ever put into glass!"

MISS BETTY ANN JOY

Campus circles will be interested in the announcement made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Joy of Falls City, of the engagement and approaching betrothal of their daughter, Betty Ann, to Ben F. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leonard of Ainsworth.

Miss Joy is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Leonard, who is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, received his Master's Degree in geology from the University and now is attending graduate school.

A June wedding is planned.

SUBURBIA

EASTBOROUGH

The official opening of the swimming season is only a hop, skip and a "splash" away so it seems not the least bit untimely to talk about it this morning. The Eastborough pool committee, headed by last year's president, Bob Harrington, met last Tuesday evening at St. Mark's Methodist Church to elect new board members who are Mrs. William R. Lien, Al Oschner and Ernest Goss. We understand that the group will meet sometime this week to elect the other officers for this season.

A pirate theme sounds quite appropriate for an adventurous young boy's birthday party and the fellow we have in mind — whose party decors and favors depicted such a theme—is Mike Reta. Mike, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reta, celebrated his fifth anniversary last Saturday and guests for the affair were Sammy Martin, Tim Sweeney, Steve Denham, John Page, David Dunnigan, Stanley Strauss, Chris Willey and Connie Lincoln. The honoree's sister, Jane Ann, also was on hand for the festivities.

A bridge hostess this week was Mrs. William Lien who entertained at her home on Monday evening. A dessert supper was served to the guests who included Mrs. Tom Healey, Mrs. Stanley Perry, Mrs. Robert Wepler, Mrs. James Myers, Mrs. Harold Brinkhoph, Mrs. Jack Pesek, Mrs. Carl Samuelson, Mrs. Harry Gradwohl, Mrs. Frank Cummins, Mrs. Paul Brusnahan and Mrs. Dean High.

Neighbors of Mrs. Lee Knopp met at her home on Monday evening to enjoy an informal coffee and chat. Included among those on the guest list were Mrs. Earlin Seawards, Mrs. Jack Seanor, Mrs. Pete Nichols, Mrs. Bob Morgan, Mrs. Bob Harrington, Mrs. Dale Dreeszen and Mrs. Redge Davies.

Returning to the suburb last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ulrich and their daughter, Lois Kay, who vacationed for a week in and about Chicago, Ill. The members of the threesome were guests of Mrs. Ulrich's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Oltman of Chicago.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Heard that Mrs. Kenneth Alles will be hostess this evening at her suburb home when the ladies on hand will be members of the Park Valley Heights canasta club. Regular members of the group are Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Robert Gould, Mrs. Jack Herbert, Mrs. Richard Robertson, Mrs. Glen Herbert, Mrs. Lewis Holland and Mrs. Alles. A guest of the club will be Mrs. Jack Legler.

Mention of neighborhood festivities reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Larry Busch entertained last Saturday evening at a co-op supper and pinochle party. Included in the guest list for the gala affair were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Horner, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullinix, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Craft and Mr. and Mrs. Al Pederson.

TOWN TALK

—mid-April opens and closes the door on activity at one and the same time—It puts out the welcome mat for golf, ladies' days at the various country clubs, out-door barbecues, the baseball season and such. It brings out the cottons and puts away the fleece-lined mittens.

Mid-April closes the door on many of the dancing clubs, a variety of women's organizations—and it puts basketball into mothballs for another year.

Mid-April, it seems, also is the month of new officers—at least for a few of the dancing clubs.

* * *

—the Safari Dancing Club, for instance, has three new officer couples—Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Reents, who will serve as president for the coming year; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gorham, vice-president, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rauscher, secretary-treasurer.

* * *

—then there is the Merrimyx Dancing Club who named Emory Nelson as its president, and Mrs. George Place as secretary.

* * *

—the new officers of the Emanon Dancing Club include Mr. and Mrs. Don Crosier, president; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Aescheliman, vice-president, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Massie, secretary-treasurer.

* * *

—back home again are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hanson who returned a few days ago after an absence of seven weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson drove from Lincoln to Miami from where they began their 24 days of island hopping in the Caribbean area. Then back to Miami and up the coast to Virginia, where they spent some time at Williamsburg—From Williamsburg a leisurely trip through the southern and east-central states brought them home.

* * *

—back home again is Mrs. Lois Hillyer who has just returned from Washington, D.C., where she attended a two-day meeting of the National Association of Home Builders. During her stay in Washington Mrs. Hillyer was a guest at the breakfast, given weekly by members of the Nebraska Congressional delegation and their wives, including Sen. and Mrs. Roman Hruska, Sen. and Mrs. Carl Curtis, Rep. and Mrs. Glenn Cunningham, Rep. and Mrs. Phil Weaver, Rep. A. L. Miller, Rep. Robert D. Harrison, Charles Thone, and LeRoy Welch.

Plans June Wedding

MISS ELEANOR MEYER

Announcemnet is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Meyer of Minden, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eleanor, to Phil R. Etzelmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Etzelmiller, also of Minden.

The wedding will take place in June.

Miss Meyer is a former student at the University of Nebraska and now is a member of the Minden Elementary School faculty.

Mr. Etzelmeyer attended Kearney State College and now is a senior in the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry.

Hostess

Mrs. Henry Alt was hostess to the Lookout Extension Club on Tuesday afternoon when the program, "Furniture Arrangement," was given by Mrs. Jerry Eickmeier and Mrs. Lester Thompson.

PTA Life Members

Capitol PTA honored three members at its meeting Tuesday evening with PTA life membership awards. Those honored were (from the left; Mrs. Harvey Kaufman, faculty member John Hoover, and Mrs. Otto G. Waters.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Hulda Roper whose topic was, "Who Are The Delinquents?", and the welcome was given by Mrs. Lawrence Beldin who spoke on, "Parents Set The Pattern".

The following new officers were elected: co-presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnston; first vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Binfield; second vice president, Mrs. Mildred Jensen; secretaries, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Corn; treasurers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coke; council delegates, Mrs. Henry Frickel and Mrs. Lawrence Beldin.

NFWC Installs Officers

MRS. FRANCIS MOLES

Mrs. P. O. Marvel of Giltner was installed Wednesday afternoon as president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Club at the concluding session of the organization's 62nd annual convention at Scottsbluff.

Elected director of junior clubs in the state was Mrs. Francis Moles of Seward, and other new officers are Mrs. E. J. Huntemer of Grand Island, first vice president; Mrs. G. A. Butts of Burwell, second vice president; Mrs. George Mechling, Lincoln, third vice president; Mrs. John W. Coffey, Fremont, recording secretary; and Mrs. Walter Kirchhefer, Sutton, treasurer.

The Lincoln Woman's Club won first place in the pressbook competition for clubs serviced by daily papers, with the Fremont Club winning second place, and Scottsbluff, third. Winners for clubs serviced by weeklies were the Sunflower Club of Mitchell, first; the Albion Club, second; and the Sargent Club, third.

Mrs. Ottwin Schlueter of Pender was announced as Nebraska winner in the General Federation's fashion sewing contest sponsored by Vogue.

Dear Abby . . .

Okay With Me

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What on earth is wrong with you? How can you advise people to start raising a family when they are in their forties? You said that "Nature should determine when children should stop being born." Don't you know that some men are capable of having children when they are seventy-five—and some women can have them when they are sixty. How would you like to be born to a father of seventy-five and a mother of sixty?

STRAIGHT THINKER

DEAR STRAIGHT: It would be all right with me. My only regret would be that I probably wouldn't have any living grandparents.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have a husband who has a very crazy sense of humor. When we moved into this flat he went and told all the neighbors that we weren't married—we were just living together. Abby, we have kids running around all over the place. I am so embarrassed because I sometimes think people don't know he is joking and they don't care to make our acquaintance. Please print this so he will take the hint. Are there other men who make jokes like this or am I all alone?

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: If your husband knows you don't think this "joke" funny, he is being very inconsiderate. Have your marriage license reproduced (at his expense) and paper the living room wall with it.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Here is a clever trick for the girl who loves to dance but can't keep the men from dancing so close she would like to slap their faces. Place one of her hands on his collar bone and by a very slight leverage she can make him keep his distance. If she smiles while pushing him, he won't suspect a thing.

TRICKY

DEAR TRICKY: You could take a course in judo and and you'd NEVER have to worry about a thing.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and go roller skating every Saturday night. There is an older boy who is always skating there and he doesn't take his eyes off me. He makes me nervous. I don't care for his looks or his language. He is always asking me to skate with him. Can you think of a gracious way to say "get lost" without hurting his feelings?

TOO GOOD

DEAR TOO: What's wrong with a plain old-fashioned, "No thank you"?

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED SICK: No one in this country has to walk around with a sore that refuses to heal for two years. This could be very serious. Go to your local COUNTY MEDICAL SERVICE at once. They will see you—money or no money.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Regains Class 4 Fire Protection Rank

Halts Insurance Premium Boost; Official Praises Mayor Martin

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln has regained its Class 4 fire protection rating and will retain fire insurance rates currently in effect for the city.

Mayor Bennett S. Martin was so advised Wednesday by letter from the Nebraska Inspection Bureau and National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Last September, Lincoln was rated Class 5 with 2,145 deficiency points or 145 more than the maximum to retain its former rating.

City officials immediately began an improvement program to regain a Class 4 rating — the loss of which would mean an increased insurance premium estimated at upwards of $250,000 on residential property alone.

1,886 Points

The January re-inspection of improved fire defenses showed 1,886 deficiency points —a reduction from the 2,145 in the 1957 inspection.

W. P. Blinn, Inspection Bureau manager, congratulated city officials "for the expeditious manner in which improvements were effected."

Noting many years of experience with a large number of cities and towns, Blinn informed Mayor Martin:

"Never have we had the pleasure of working with a civic officer who faced up to a problem with the get-the-job done determination you (Martin) have in carrying through to successful conclusion in the short span of 75 days a major program involving considerable work and expenditures."

Blinn also said it "would be unfortunate, now that this hurdle has been crossed, to permit the protection to backslide."

He expressed hope that additional improvements needed to further strengthen Lincoln's position in Class 4 as outlined in the city's progress reports "will also be completed."

One project yet to be completed is the new 17th and Van Dorn neighborhood fire station. Architectural plans for the $60,000 station have been approved, but bid-letting was held up until the new rating report was received.

Martin was obviously pleased with the new rating report. "It shows that our thinking and efforts to regain our Class 4 ratings were successfully executed," he said.

Report "conclusions" on the various departments were:

Water Supply — pumping capacity is now adequate; the reliability of electric power supply to the Ashland pumping station has been considerably improved; efforts should be directed toward compliance with the remaining recommendations.

Fire Department — the Department has been improved by full or partial compliance with some of the 1957 report recommendations. Efforts should be made to comply with the remaining recommendations.

Fire Alarm — Arrangements have been made to install 3 trunk lines for progressive operation and emergency calls, but installation will be delayed somewhat as the telephone company is moving into new quarters.

Other Departments — Police patrol officers are now instructed to report unauthorized building construction. The municipal code has been amended to include recommended legislative improvements concerning the national building code and extension of fire zones. Fire inspection records were improved.

Fire department improvements included the creation of a third assistant chief, written examination for promotions in first 3 officer ranks, augmentation of hose supply, training program improved, but facilities remain inadequate, and response to downtown business district alarms increased by one company.

The comparative breakdown and rating between the 1957 report and 1958 re-inspection:

Cook Resigns As Dawson Attorney; Gerdes Is Named

Lexington, Neb. (AP) — Dawson County Attorney Ed Cook III, 28, has resigned and will be succeeded on May 1 by his deputy, Paul Gerdes, 32, of Lexington.

At the same time John Rohnert, 38, will succeed Sheriff Paul Whaley who has resigned.

Both Rohnert and Gerdes are unopposed in the Republican primary for the offices which they will fill by appointment.

Cook said he needed more time for his private law practice. He added that he thought there would be a smoother transition all around if sheriff and county attorney changes were made at the same time.

Fierce Battles Expected For KU Relays' Titles

Lincoln Star Special

Lawrence, Kan. — Loaded with the tightest competitive baton fields since World War 2, the 33rd Kansas Relays unfurls a new, expanded two-day show here this weekend.

Furious battles are scheduled in at least four of the seven University-class relays as the gold-medal harvesters move up from Texas for their second stop on the Midlands' Grand Circuit. Three Olympians, Al Oerter, of the host Jayhawkers; Dave Lean, Michigan State, and Eddie Southern, Texas' powerful quartermiler, will be in the field, along with six national kings from last year's NCAA, NAAU, and NAIA meets. Oerter is a tripler in this department, having won the discus at Melbourne, and added the NCAA and NAAU flags last year.

He also is one of nine defending champions in this annual Mt. Oread Run-for-the-Watches. And this roster does not include three former titlists who are returning after dethronements last year, Kent Floerke, of Kansas in the hop-step-jump; Kansas State's Gene O'Conner in the 400-meter hurdles, and Phil Mulkey, Memphis State, in the decathlon.

Nebraska will enter four relay teams and several individual competitors in the meet.

Joe Mullins, Knolly Barnes, Ken Ash and Mike Fleming will run in the two-mile relay event. The 440-yard team which won the Texas Relays' crown, will be composed of Tom Hodson, Don Phillips, Keith Young and Keith Gardner.

Gardner, Hodson, Dick Jahr and either Young or Don Ficke will run in the 880-yard relay battle, and Gardner, Jahr, Hodson or Ficke and Fleming will compete in the sprint medley relay.

Ken Pollar, pole vault, Bill Lafleur, javelin, Bill Marten and Bill Hawkins, high hurdles, also will compete in the meet.

Ninety schoolboy teams will go to the post in this adjusted program, along with 21 universities, 26 colleges and seven junior colleges.

Baton competition will be centered in the University 440, 880, two-mile, and distance medley. The latter will be a continuation of a running feud, which Kansas and Texas inaugurated last year and have been joined by Oklahoma this spring. The Jayhawkers won two of three from the Longhorns on the Texas-Kansas-Drake circuit last year. Oklahoma beat them both at Austin March 28 as two teams dipped under 10:00 for the first time in Grand Circuit history.

Kansas and Oklahoma also are expected to be involved with Nebraska and Michigan State in the Two-Mile. The Sooners ran 7:42.8 for third at Austin, but were down to 7:36.8 at the Southwestern Relays last Saturday. Hodgson is believed capable of 1:50 in the anchor half. The Spartans, with Lean, fifth in the Melbourne intermediate hurdles, and Willie Atterberry, who clocked the nation's best frosh quarter and half times last year, in the final two carries, hit 7:34.4 to win the Marine Corps Games in their first outdoor start. Nebraska is welcoming back Mullins, second-ranked freshman half-miler in the land last year, while Kansas is doing the same with Clif Cushman, who was No. 3 on that list.

This four-sided battle is expected to topple the meet record of 7:32.3 Kansas erected last year.

The Cornhuskers, Jayhawkers, and Longhorns also will be matched in the 440 against Oklahoma State. Nebraska scored a surprise :41.4 win at Austin with its two Jamaica Jets, Gardner and Young, leading off. Texas clocked :41.5 in a special race in that meet, but returns three-fourths of the club that set a :39.9 world record here last year. OSU and Kansas ran :41.1 and :41.2 in their dual last Saturday.

The Cowpokes scorched a stunning 1:22.9, second-fastest clocking in history, to win the 880 at Texas. But they'll meet a stiff challenge from Nebraska and UT. With one less curve to run here the Punchers conceivably could run even faster Saturday. At any rate the 1:24.2 meet record hung up by Texas last year appears doomed.

KU's two-time NAAU champion, Ernie Shelby, owns windblown efforts of 26-3½ and 25-9 this spring. He was beyond 25-0 six times during the indoor season. All of which means, Gordon's ancient standard, second-oldest on the books, may fall at last after withstanding challenges from three Olympians.

Oerter exceeded the world record thrice at the Arkansas Relays with a peak of 202-6. Howard-Payne returns three members of last year's record-setting combine and opened with a 7:41.5 at Texas.

CHIEFS PAD WL ROSTER

. . . First Baseman, Pitcher, Catcher Tabbed

By Don Bryant

Jacksonville Beach, Fla.—A rookie first baseman and a Class C standout joined a veteran on the Lincoln Chiefs roster Wednesday afternoon as Skipper Monty Basgall continued to build his 1958 club.

The first baseman is Ray Looney, a former T-formation quarterback star at George Washington University. Bill Dial, who has a 33-18 record in two years of pro baseball, is a left-handed pitcher who has been very impressive in the Pittsburgh minor league camp here.

Nick Koback, the former bonus catcher with the Pirates who played briefly at Lincoln for Bill Burwell in 1955, is the old head.

Rain, cold and wind again interrupted camp proceedings Wednesday afternoon.

Looney gained fame at George Washington both as a baseball player and a gridder. In 1956 he quarterbacked GW to a 8-1-1 season and a victory over Texas Western in the Sun Bowl.

Last spring he hit .356 as George Washington won the Southern Conference title for the second time in the three years he was with the squad.

The new Chief's first-sacker had another semester of school before earning his degree, but Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pirates, talked him into accepting a bonus to enter the pro ranks. He plans to complete his studies next fall.

Looney, 21, is a native of Glassport, Pa., and is tabbed by camp personnel here as "one of the better hitting prospects in the organization."

He's 6-1, weighs 190 and throws and bats from the left side.

Dial had a tremendous year for Class C San Jose in 1957. The 21-year-old southpaw had a 20-8 record, fanned 195 in 233 innings and posted six shutouts to lead the league. His ERA was a sparkling 2.12.

Bill completed all but one of the 27 games he started.

In 1956, Dial was 13-10 for Class C Douglas and struck out 151 in 201 innings. A pretty good hitter, Bill has frequently been called on to pinch hit.

A native of Santa Ana, Calif., Dial is 6-0 and weighs 170.

Koback, a $30,000 bonus baby in 1953, was with Lincoln briefly in 1955 after serving his two required years in the major leagues with Pittsburgh. The bonus rule has since been eliminated.

The 190-pound, 6-footer got to play just 16 games in the National League in 1953-54-55 before his apprentice time was up and he came to Lincoln.

He appeared in 38 games for Lincoln in 1955, hitting .223.

In 1956 he hit .313 for Williamsport in the Class A Eastern League and last season saw duty at Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League and Mobile of the Southern Association. A knee injury sidelined him in July of last year.

Koback comes to Lincoln on option from Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League. He lives in Hartford, Conn.

Ex-Husker Drives In 5 Runs For A's

Cleveland (AP)—Kansas City pounded six Cleveland pitchers for 14 hits—including a home run and a pair of doubles by Bob Cerv—to whip the Indians 9-4 Tuesday.

Cerv's hitting rampage drove in five runs. The Athletics jumped on starter Ray Narleski for four runs and chased him before he could retire a batter in the first inning. He yielded three hits and a walk.

Steve Ridzik, Hoyt Wilhelm, Chuck Churn, Cal McLish and Dick Tomanek tripped to the mound as Cleveland Manager Bobby Bragan poured 20 players into the game.

Cerv greeted Ridzik with a double to center, scoring Lopez. A sacrifice fly by Woody Held scored Power. Joe Demaestri's two-out single scored Cerv, former Nebraska U. diamond star.

The A's counted two more runs in the seventh at Churn's expense on singles by Lopez and Power and a double by Cerv.

Cerv cracked a homer in the ninth off Tomanek, following a single by Lopez.

Bolling Sparkles In Detroit Win

Chicago (AP)—Detroit's Frank Bolling blasted a three-run homer on a three-two pitch with two out in the ninth to hand the Tigers a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday.

Although loser Dick Donovan, a 16-6 Six pitcher last season, was shelled for 12 Tiger hits, it could be said he was beaten by inches.

Bolling's dramatic clout hit the yellow-painted steel foul marker on the left field line and was an automatic homer although it bounced back into the field.

Fremont—Fourteen records were established in 22 events here Wednesday to highlight the second annual Midland College Relays.

The records came in both the high school and college divisions, with the prepsters cracking six marks and the college runners breaking eight.

The top mark of the high school division came in the 2-mile relay where the Lincoln Northeast quartet of Jerry Witherby, Warren Woods, Glen Heiser and Russell Miller turned in an 8:40.3 clocking, well under the state best for the event this season.

Wahoo's Stu Vculek, who was the meet's only double individual winner, also set a new state prep discus best with a record toss of 148-8½.

Podres Fans 11 Giants; Wins 13-1

San Francisco (AP) — Johnny Podres struck out 11 San Francisco Giants and Duke Snider and Dick Gray slammed two-run homers as the transplanted Los Angeles Dodgers won their first 1958 game 13-1.

A top-coated crowd of 22,735 sat in 54 degree temperature to see the lopsided contest, marred by the beaning of Gino Cimoli, Dodger center fielder.

Cimoli went down when hit by a pitch thrown by Paul Giel of the Giants in the seventh. He left the field under his own power and Dr. Harold Wendler, Los Angeles trainer, reported his reflexes were all right when he returned to the clubhouse. The outfielder was hit on the helmet above the left ear.

Podres' strikeout total was a new personal high. The 25-year-old left-hander, who was the World Series hero of 1955, had fanned 10 Chicago Cubs in 1953.

Snider's blast was a tape measure job, more than 400 feet over the right field wall following Pee Wee Reese's double in the third. Only one Pacific Coast League player, Tito Francona of Vancouver, now with the Chicago White Sox, cleared that barrier last year.

2 NU Sophs Are Boosted

Two sophomore linemen were boosted to the No. 1 spring practice unit Wednesday by Nebraska Football Coach Bill Jennings.

Al Wellman, 208-pounder from DeSmet, S.D., and Roland McDole, 204-pounder from Toledo, O., received the promotions. Wellman took over at the strong-side tackle, and McDole ran on the strong-side end position.

The Huskers were sent through their second rugged workout in as many practices. After an hour of position drills the football candidates staged an hour-long scrimmage in the stadium.

George Harshman, two-year letterman quarterback who is not attending school this year because of scholastic difficulties, was the No. 1 quarterback Wednesday. He teamed with Larry Naviaux, Dick McCashland and Jim Hergenreter to produce several scoring drives during the scrimmage.

The single-wing attack was emphasized in the scrimmage, with only a few Split-T plays being called.

Two sophomores joined Captain Mike Lee on the injury list. Milton Moskovitz and Tim Barnes, both of Omaha, did not suit up for Wednesday's drills.

Cass County Sparked By Rhoades

HOW THEY SCORED
Weeping Water 71, Louisville 58 5/6, Eagle 56, Nehawka 13, Alvo 9, Murdock 8⅓, Avoca 6 5/6.

Classy Phil Rhoades won three events, including a record winning leap in the high jump, to lead Weeping Water to the championship in the Cass County track meet at Nebraska Wesleyan Wednesday.

Weeping Water scored 71 points to end a two-year championship reign by Louisville, which finished second with 58 5-6 points. Eagle made a three-team race of it with 56 points for third.

Rhoades, who holds the state's best high jump mark this season, cleared 5-9¾ to erase the old record of 5-9½ set by Nehawka's Ned Snider. Rhoades has a 6-1 leap this season.

In addition to the high jump, the Weeping Water star won the 120-yard high hurdles and the pole vault.

Charles Seeger of Weeping Water, who won the shot put and broad jump and Louisville's Doug Alfrey, who slammed the sprints, were double winners. Jim Yanak of Lousville ran a :22.7 against a strong wind in the 180-yard low hurdles.

OU Miler Spotlighted In Dallas Track Meet

Dallas (AP) — Miler Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma, high jumper Bertil Holmgren of Southern Methodist and quarter-miler Eddie Southern of Texas will be in the spotlight tonight in the annual Dallas Invitational Track and Field Meet.

Oklahoma, substituting for Southern California, which won the meet all four years on its existence, will be competing against Texas, Abilene Christian and Southern Methodist but with only a fair chance of taking the championship.

Star-studded, well-balanced Texas is a heavy favorite.

Hogdson, who can do the mile in under 4:10.0 with ease—he has been as low as 4:05—is expected to hang up a new record. He will be opposed by Joe Villarreal of Texas, who has made it in 4:08.9. The record is 4:15.2.

Holmgren, whose last effort was 6 feet 9⅝, will be after the high jump record of 6 feet 9¼ inches.

Southern should set a record in the quarter-mile, since he has done 46.2 and the standard here is 47.8. He also appears certain of figuring in another record since he's anchor man on the terrific Longhorn mile relay team that has done 3:10.4 against the meet record of 3:13.0.

Bobby Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion from Abilene Christian, will run the 100 and 220 but for the first time Morrow is considered no more than an average entry. He has been beaten twice in a row by his teammate, Bill Woodhouse, and could take another licking here either from Woodhouse or Dee Givens, the Oklahoma sprinter. Hollis Gainey of Texas, who has a 9.5 wind-aided 100 to his credit this year, also is in the field.

Larry Neely of Oklahoma might better the pole vault record of 14 feet 2 inches—he has made 14 feet already.

Erv Kahl Rolls 712 Series

Erv Kahl Wednesday night chalked up the fourth 700 series rolled in Lincoln when he combined games of 220-238-254 for a 712 score.

Kahl bowls for Hoesch Hardware in the Cornhusker No. 1 League at Bowl-Mor.

Baltimore's Bonus Baby Slams Homer

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—Dave Nicholson, Baltimore's $100,000 bonus baby from St. Louis, rapped a three-run homer in the eighth inning to give Knoxville a 4-1 Sally League victory over Charlotte and a split of the season-opening doubleheader.

Key Wins Tourney

Delray Beach, Fla., (AP) — A Sunday golfer turned loose his Sunday punch in the form of subpar golf to win the Western Amateur championship Wednesday as James (Billy) Key of Columbus, Ga., defeated 1956 titleholder Mason Rudolph in the 36-hole final, 3 and 2.

Haney Fined For Umpire Heckling

Milwaukee (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves, who hasn't been thrown out of a league game since 1956, but who was chased twice by umpire Augie Donatelli during the spring tour, said he'd been fined $50.

National League President Warren Giles imposed the penalty for the second ruckus with Donatelli. During an exhibition at Austin, Tex., a week ago, coach John Fitzpatrick made some helpful observation from the bench, Haney said—"something like, 'if there's anybody in your way, ask for help.'

Boyd Easily Outscores Ring Foe Neal Rivers

Chicago (AP)—A brutal, busy-fisted Bobby Boyd bloodied the nose and left eye of Neal Rivers, slugging out a unanimous 10 round decision in their middleweight battle in the Chicago Stadium.

The gangling Boyd, who two years ago was a No. 1 contender, unloaded about every punch in the book at his shorter opponent but could not come near a knockout.

Rivers, rated No. 8 in the Current National Boxing Assn. rankings could not cope with the lanky Chicagoan's superior reach. And Boyd, who now is unrated by the NBA, kept punching away without a letup.

He hammered his Las Vegas, Nev., foe with uppercuts, bolos, overhand rights, straight rights, left hooks, straight hooks and jabs.

The official cards favored Boyd by a lopsided margin. Judge Frank Clark scored it 50-41 under the five point must system. Judge Harold Marovitz saw it 50-44. Referee Bernard Weissman had it 50-42. The Associated Press favored Boyd 48-43.

Meginnis Garners LCC Derby Honors

Harry Meginnis fired a 74 to take low gross for 18 holes in the Lincoln Country Club's first iron derby of the season Wednesday.

Low net for the 18-hole distance went to Clayton Eicher with a 63 while Chick White had the low gross for 9-hole players with a 36.

Len Hines, who had the low sixes; Ned Cadwallader, with the best grand total for par threes; Dr. Edward Maness, who shot the most holes with uneven figures and Dr. Bill Rotton, who was closest to the pin on No. 10 were the other winners.

Torczon Holds NU Batting Leadership

Gene Torczon of Humphrey continues to set the pace for Nebraska baseballers. The lanky outfielder has a lusty .414 mark after nine games.

Larry Lewis, Ogallala outfielder, is second in the batting average chart with .378.

Sophomore Bill Fisher, who may get a crack at the second base post if regular second baseman Al Karle's heel is not mended by Friday, is third with a .357.

Dwight Siebler, who stopped Missouri for the Huskers' only Big Eight victory, is the leading pitcher with a 3-0 mark. In 20 innings he has posted a 1.35 earned run average.

BOSOX NIP YANKS 3-1

bination of Jackie Jensen's two-run homer, Frank Malzone's sharp fielding and the clutch pitching of Dave Sisler.

Jensen powered a Tom Sturdivant offering into the left center field screen 40 feet above the 379 foot mark in the first inning. The blow, Jensen's second in 3 games, came on the heels of a Gene Stephens single.

Malzone braced Sisler's shaky start with defensive gems at third base in each of the first 2 innings.

Sisler, son of the Hall of Fame first baseman, rallied behind his support for a 7-hitter and displayed more of the class he demonstrated in spring training.

The Fenway Park attendance was 13,337.

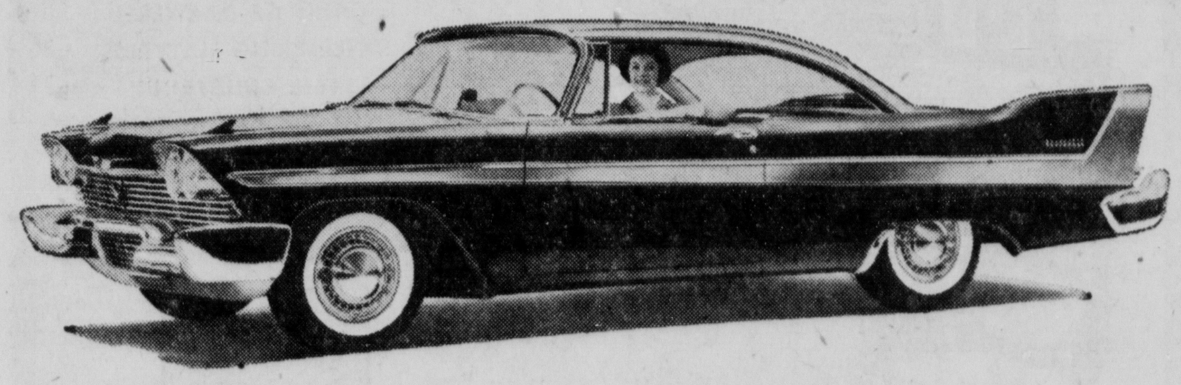
Why the 1958 PLYMOUTH is

TODAY'S BEST BUY... TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE



TODAY'S BEST BUY is Plymouth because only Plymouth gives you, as standard equipment on all models at no extra cost to you, great advances not available on the other two in the low-price "3" at any price. Among these:

Torsion-Aire, a revolutionary new suspension system that provides the world's easiest and most level ride, without roll or sway.

Total-Contact Brakes, with 2 cylinders in each front brake instead of just one, for faster, smoother, safer, dive-free stops.

Independent Parking Brake, the only one in the low-price "3" that isn't connected with the foot-brake system.

Biggest Windshield, more glass area. More inside roominess than either of the "other two."

118-inch Wheelbase on even the lowest-priced models. Plus many other features.

TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE will be Plymouth because Plymouth's clean, low, graceful Silver Dart styling will not look "dated" when trade-in time comes. What's more, Plymouth will still be the only 1958 car with the mechanical improvements that make it today's best buy!

So see your Plymouth dealer for value tomorrow as well as today. Your first choice in the low-price "3" can only be . . .

Maj. James Reprimanded For His Part In 'Boy In Box' Case

Seoul (Thursday) (INS)—A United States Army major was reprimanded and fined $200 for his part in the "Boy in the Box" torture of an 18-year-old Korean youth 2 months ago.

The penalty was imposed by the Army on Maj. Thomas G. James, 40, of Plymouth, Pa. James had been given the choice of being court-martialed or accepting punishment under Article 15 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. He chose the latter.

The official reprimand was placed on his record and the fine assessed because the major had piloted a helicopter in which the Korean youth was flown 25 miles to Uijongbu after being nailed into a shipping crate at the U.S. Army aircraft maintenance center.

The youth had been caught stealing American Army supplies.

Last week, Capt. Marvin Kemp of Kilmichael, Miss., pleaded guilty before a general court-martial of having participated in the beating and torture of the Korean teenager. He was suspended from his command for 6 months, reprimanded and fined $1,200.

A 3rd Army man involved in the incident is scheduled to go on trial before a special court-martial at U.S. 8th Army Headquarters in Seoul Friday. He is M. Sgt. Robert E. Weidensaul, 31, of Pottstown, Pa.

Grand Island, Juniata Men Fatally Hurt

By International News Service

The Nebraska highway traffic toll climbed to 69 Wednesday with the deaths of a Juniata farmer and a Grand Island man.

Latest victim was Elwood H. Sheets, 37, of Juniata, who was crushed to death when his tractor overturned on a county road 5 miles south and a half a mile west of Juniata late Wednesday morning.

Safety patrolmen said Sheets apparently attempted to drive his tractor across a ditch. The vehicle climbed an embankment and flipped over, pinning him underneath.

Earlier Wednesday, 47-year-old Leonard C. Brittain died of injuries received in a one-car accident late Tuesday night. Brittain, of Grand Island, was the driver of a car which went out of control and struck a culvert 7 miles east of Grand Island on Highway 30.

He was rushed to a hospital, where he died 4 hours later.

Last year's traffic death toll on this date was 64.

He said the labor situation in the 6-county North Platte area is improving. In the last 10 days, he reported, the total of applicants has shrunk from 600 to 450 and there will be further reductions with the reopening of seasonal work.

No Reason To Ground B47's Despite Crashes, Says SAC

Omaha (AP)—There has been no pattern in a recent series of accidents involving B-47 medium bombers to indicate any single cause, a Strategic Air Command spokesman said Wednesday.

"We see no reason to ground the B47's now," reported Capt. James Brady, a SAC headquarters public information officer. "There are more than 1,000 B-47s flying on a 24-hour basis at present, in all kinds of weather and under simulated combat conditions."

There have been several B47 crashes recently but Brady said SAC is prohibited from giving out cumulative figures.

In the last 12 months, the SAC spokesman said, SAC aircraft flew more than one million hours on combat-type missions with an accident rate of 5 per 100,000 hours flown, compared with a rate of 54 accidents per 100,000 hours in 1950. For statistical purposes even damage to an aircraft wing while parking the craft might be counted, so this rate does not reflect a rate of injury to personnel.

In these recent crashes, as in all crashes involving military aircraft, a team of specialists is assigned to investigate and it often takes several weeks to assemble and evaluate information starting with the pilot's flight plan and involving even an attempt to reconstruct the damaged plane for study. Brady said no corrections have been recommended as the result of the recent crashes because these investigations are not complete.

NATO Briefed On New Firepower

Paris (AP)—The United States told its NATO allies it can begin regular deliveries of medium-range ballistic weapons to back up the European defense shield before the end of this year.

The defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization received a briefing on the highly complicated modern armament aimed at bolstering the firepower of allied forces manning the ramparts across the center of Europe.

Officers and experts accompanying U.S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy displayed charts and motion pictures covering all types of new arms, from pocket rockets to the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) with a range of 5,000 miles or more.

In most cases they were dual purpose weapons, capable of firing either conventional or nuclear explosives. They included ground-to-ground, ground-to-air guided missiles and artillery-type arms.

In Britain

The first of the intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM), capable of hurling nuclear devastation on targets 1,500 miles away, will be in place on a base in Britain before the end of 1958, informants said.

They said the over-all plan is to place American-built Thor missiles on 4 bases in Britain, beginning late this year and at regular intervals through 1959-60. Talks are going on with continental nations for similar bases, probably in Holland, France, Italy and Turkey.

Earlier the ministers approved plans to double existing allied ground force strength on the continent, and to beef up NATO divisions with nuclear weapons. The goal is to put 30 allied divisions on a potential frontline to parry any possible Soviet attack.

The Russians are said to have about 175 divisions. These may have nuclear armament now or will get some eventually. The experts feel the difference in manpower is not important as long as allied firepower has an edge in tactical atomic weapons.

Douglas Harman Legion Regional Oratory Winner

Douglas Harman, 18-year-old Lincoln Northeast senior, won the regional American Legion Oratorical Contest held at Pueblo, Colo.

Harman will compete in the sectional contest Friday at Lodi, Calif.

The regional contest included state winners from Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico. The contestants topics were on some phase of the national constitution. Harman's speech was entitled "I Declare War On Complacency and Panic."

Winners of the sectional contest at Lodi will compete in the national finals Monday at Portales, New Mexico.

Easter Seal Drive Total Hits $13,024

The Lancaster County Easter Seal campaign has now netted $13,024.78, according to Prof. Leroy Laase, County Easter Seal chairman.

This year's total is expected to level off at about $13,500; which is short of the $20,000 goal, Laase said. The 1958 goal was $10,000 over the goal for 1957.

The Lincoln Rehabilitation Center committee is attempting to make up for the shortage of funds necessary to hire a rehabilitation co-ordinator. The Easter Seal committee notified the Rehabilitation Center group that about $3,000 would be available from Easter Seal funds for the coordinator.

About 70% of the Easter Seal campaign income remains in Lancaster County, Laase added, for local services of the crippled Children's Society.

Meets Macmillan

London (INS) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had a 95-minute meeting at Ten Downing Street.

They began talks soon after Adenauer arrived on a 3-day visit.

Ames Apparel Remodeling Begins Today

. . . At 1317 O

Louis Blank of Ames Apparel Inc. announced that remodeling of the shop's new location at 1317 O would begin Thursday.

The women's specialty shop leased the building at 1317 O, formerly occupied by the Mayfair Grill, because their lease on their shop at 1220 O was not renewed by the Hovland-Swanson Co., owner of the property.

Ames' current lease expires May 15.

The Hovland-Swanson Co. has announced that it will begin construction of its new $1 million store on the site now occupied by the Ames store, the Bond store and the Darling Shop immediately after the Ames shop relocates.

These changes will allow the National Bank of Commerce to expand to the west into the building now used by the Hovland-Swanson store.

The future Ames Shop will have a new front and will be completely remodeled, Blank said. He expects the remodeling to be finished in about 4 weeks.

Frontage for the building at 1317 O is listed as 25 feet. The building has approximately 5,000 square feet of floor space.

Martin Aitken, architect, will supervise the remodeling of the new Ames' location, which is owned by William I. and Helen C. Aitken.

University Press Book Wins Again

"Roundup: A Nebraska Reader," published by the University of Nebraska Press, batted 1.000 Wednesday in 1958 book contests by being selected for the annual Fifty Books of the Year exhibition of the American Institute of Graphic Arts.

The award, announced Wednesday evening by the Institute at a dinner meeting in New York City, is the third the publication has received this year out of 3 contests entered. More than 800 books competed for the most recent award.

Earlier this year "Roundup" was named as one of about 30 Top Honor Books out of nearly 300 entries at the 9th annual Chicago Book Clinic. It also was selected as one of the 15 best books produced in the Middle West in the Midwestern Books Competition.

Miss Virginia Faulkner, assistant editor of the University Press, was the compiler and editor.

Basis For Award

The annual Fifty Books of the Year exhibition is selected by a panel of judges on the basis of excellence in book design and production consistent with purpose and price, according to the Institute. This year, judges were: P. J. Conkwright of Princeton University Press, Eugene M. Ettenberg of Gallery Press and Ralph Eckerstrom of Container Corporation.

Miss Faulkner reviews the materials and drawings which produced "Roundup: A Nebraska Reader."

The books will be presented to the Library of the Graphic Arts Center of Columbia University for use by students and historians. Traveling exhibitions of the selections will begin in the United States, England and Canada after May 1.

Compiles Writings

"Roundup," published during the 15th anniversary year of the University Press, is a compilation of the writings of some 90 individuals about the many elements which have produced the state.

According to Miss Faulkner, the book, originally intended partly as a briefing to Nebraskans about the state they live in, intentionally emphasizes present Nebraska. Much has been written about the pioneering days of the state, she explains, but the Press staff believed it was timely and appropriate to publish a book with good readable material about the present.

Miss Emily Schossberger is editor of the University Press.

Burwell Man Named In U.S. Wage Law Suit

A federal suit against Lloyd E. Britton of Burwell, Neb., has been filed alleging violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell alleges that Britton has failed to pay minimum wages required under the act and to keep accurate and adequate records.

The suit alleges that Britton is engaged in the sale, production and distribution of scrap metal in interstate commerce and employs approximately 8 persons.

Mitchell asks that Britton, doing business as Anderson Wrecking, be permanently enjoined from further violative acts.

Planes Fired On

Istanbul (INS)—Turkish officials at Iskanderun Airport said Syrian guns fired on 3 French planes which were helping fight locusts in the desert of southeastern Turkey.

One of the planes was forced to land in Syria and the others landed safely at Iskanderun.

Nasser Is Seeking Better Relations With United States

Cairo (AP)—President Nasser seems to want better relations with the United States, but there is a definite limit to the price he is willing to pay.

Signs of a general improvement in relations are noted, but seasoned observers caution against hope for a dramatic solution to problems between the 2 countries.

"Improvement will come gradually as a result of steady hard work by both sides, not with dramatic abruptness," one qualified source said. "Excessive optimism in Washington could even damage relations a bit by making Nasser think we already are taking him for granted."

U.S.-Egyptian relations soured in 1956 when Secretary of State Dulles pulled the rug from under Nasser's hopes of British and U.S. aid to finance his big Aswan Dam project.

Standee Parties

New York (AP) — Standing room theater parties are the latest Broadway ticket trend. The boxoffice of the smash hit "The Music Man" reports several organizations, unable to buy seats for the show, purchased standee space instead. Fire regulations limit standup patrons to 40 per performance, so one club bought the space for 2 evenings to take care of 80 members.

Jones Questioned On Norris Contract

. . . In Beatrice Power Case Session

Beatrice, Neb. (AP) — Cross examination of Dr. Herschell Jones of H. Zinder and Co., a firm that made a study of 3 power contracts submitted to the city of Beatrice and reported that the Norris Rural Public Power contract was the best, began in District Court Wednesday.

The company was hired by the Norris District to make the study and the city subsequently accepted the Norris offer in preference to renewing a contract with Consumers Public Power District.

The present suit was instituted by Consumers to set aside the Norris-Beatrice pact, which became effective Tuesday. Consumers contends its contract was actually cheaper than the one Beatrice signed with Norris and also contends Norris cannot legally serve the city under its charter from the state.

Richard Wilson, attorney for Consumers, based much of his opening questioning of Dr. Jones on technical phases of the Norris-Beatrice contract, especially the escalator clauses in the pact.

Wilson's questions were of the groundwork sort as he prepared to take up specific factors in the contract in future questioning.

Direct questioning of Dr. Jones ended with the morning session.

Dr. Jones had based much of his testimony on the relative benefits of power contracts in question on a 43-page study he had prepared in behalf of Norris but only portions of the study had been entered in evidence.

Consumers attorneys complained that they had never been given an opportunity to examine the entire study and Robert B. Crosby, attorney for Norris, promptly offered it to them. He identified the report but did not offer it in evidence.

Davey Water System Readied

Excavation work in connection with the new water system being installed at Davey is under way. The system, approved in a $16,000 special bond issue election last fall, is expected to be completed in about 2 weeks. Davey is located about 13 miles north of Lincoln. (Star Photo)

GOP Finances Get Going Over

Columbus, Neb. — The Nebraska Republican Party's finance and budget committee met here to set up its statewide organization for the 1958 campaign.

Newly-elected chairman John Cooper of Humboldt presided.

Tentative figures for apportionment of campaign funds among GOP candidates after the primary elections May 13 have been determined, Cooper told The Star.

Final figures will be arrived at during a committee session in Lincoln following the primary vote.

The committee has power to collect and distribute funds among the party's candidates.

Big Three Envoys Tell Russia They Are Ready Today For Summit Talks

Moscow (AP) — The ambassadors of Britain, the United States and France told the Soviet Union they are ready to begin talks Thursday on the major issues in preparation for a summit conference.

But they insisted on going far deeper into issues at the diplomatic level than the Russians want to go. Thus they put the next move up to the Russians and the Kremlin was silent.

Similar notes from the 3 western powers delivered to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accepted the Russian proposal of April 11 that preparatory talks for a summit conference begin on the diplomatic level Thursday.

They rejected, however, the suggestion that the diplomatic exchanges be confined to such simple housekeeping matters as arranging the time and place for a later foreign ministers conference to lay the groundwork for summit talks.

Major Questions

The West insisted that the diplomats take up the "major questions and issues," explore them "in depth" and see if there is a "reasonable prospect of achieving concrete results."

The 3 western ambassadors, Llewellyn Thompson of the United States, Sir Patrick Reilly of Britain, and Maurice DeJean, representing a lameduck French government, told Gromyko in 500-word notes they would make themselves available for the talks.

A western diplomat said this meant the ambassadors did not plan to call at the Soviet Foreign Ministry Thursday or take any further steps, "unless a reply to our notes requests us to do so."

The initiative for starting discussions "is now in the hands of the Soviet Foreign Ministry," he said.

Doubted

Most western authorities doubted that the Soviet government would agree to such broad talks immediately.

The whole emphasis of the western notes, which had been approved by all the North Atlantic allies, was on basic problems of world tension."

Diplomats in Moscow, the notes added, were in a better position "to determine and examine the positions of various governments on various issues" than were the foreign ministers because the ministers "cannot be absent from their countries for prolonged periods."

Salt-Wahoo Would Push 'Clean' Bill

. . . If Override Fails

The Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn., will push for a "clean" omnibus water projects bill or separate legislation for the $13,300,000 Salt-Wahoo project if Congress fails to override the presidential veto of the $1½ billion omnibus bill, Chairman O. H. Liebers said Wednesday.

The bill passed both houses of Congress by greater than the two-thirds majority needed to override. However judging by members of the Nebraska congressional delegation, the necessary majority may not be so easy to obtain on a vote to override the President.

Four of Nebraska's 6 senators and representatives originally voted for the bill. But Sen. Hruska and Rep. Harrison have said they would join Sen. Curtis and Rep. Cunningham, who opposed the measure, in voting to uphold the veto.

Rep. Miller said he is not sure how he would vote on the matter.

Liebers said the Association has "assurance" that a member or members of the delegation would introduce separate legislation for Salt-Wahoo if the present veto is upheld and if it is impossible to get the Nebraska project passed in new omnibus legislation.

"We're going to make every effort to get the project approved," he said.

Road Wage Scale Conference Set

Washington (AP) — Nebraska congressmen and representatives from various cities in the state are scheduled to meet with Secretary of Labor Mitchell Apr. 28 to discuss wage scales on highway projects.

Rep. Miller (R-Neb.) arranged the session. Representatives were invited from Fairbury, Holdrege, Columbus, Lincoln, North Platte, Sidney, Scottsbluff, Alliance and Grand Island.

U.S. Beauties Help To Steal Show At Fair

...From Russians

By Eddy Gilmore

Brussels (AP)—The United States and Britain rustled up some beauties and beer at the Brussels world fair preview and stole the show from Russia.

The Russians got the propaganda jump the previous day by unveiling their spectacle for the press—a model of Sputnik II.

The United State came up with some models of its own, shapely and smiling U.S. college girls who will escort visitors through the ultra modern U.S. pavilion.

Then the British won a point with the press. Commissioner General Sir John Balfour hailed the foot-weary newsmen at the British pavilion.

"Come," he said, "there's nothing like a good glass of beer in a British pub."

The newsmen stormed the place.

At the U.S. pavilion, the college girls showed newsmen around.

Brunette Nancy Greene of Augusta, Ga., smiled as she led 2 Italian newsmen through the American show.

"What long, beautiful legs," gasped one of them. "So typically American and, if you ask me, easier to look at than a Russian Sputnik."

Real Tail Light

Zanesville, O. (INS)—Eighteen-year-old Elba Wilson of anesville, O., was told by police to light up his horse's tail or go to jail. Wilson was arrested for riding his horse after dark without any taillights. Police told Wilson to put a light on the horse's tail or saddle if he planned to continue his night riding.

Rehearing Sought In Accident Case

Dr. Richard E. Klaas in a brief has asked the State Supreme Court to order a rehearing of a Platte County District Court case involving a 2 car accident and John Eden, a minor.

The brief said the district court decision was in error in stating that negligence could not be imputed to a 6 year old child, "all of which is elementary."

Invasion Of Sumatra West Coast Is Started

Jakarta (Thursday) (AP)—The Indonesian Navy announced on Thursday that the invasion of Sumatra's west coast to crush the rebellion against President Sukarno's government began at dawn.

The Navy said Marine units made an amphibious landing on the west coast—presumably in the area of Padang. A Navy spokesman said the operation went "according to plan and was highly successful."

Padang, Central Sumatra (AP)—Indonesian warships opened fire on this port city Wednesday in an apparent prelude to the big offensive against central Sumatran rebels. The rebels braced for a possible amphibious landing by 6,000 men at dawn Thursday.

A destroyer and 4 corvettes lobbed shells for 2 hours but all dropped harmlessly into the steaming mountain jungles behind this rebel stronghold. Rebel shore batteries also were far off their targets. Few of their 24 answering rounds came any closer than 300 yards from the fast, little warships.

Padang's civilian population was much too interested in gaping at the bursting shells to take cover. The civilians were disturbed only by the noise of the booming guns and the squawking of thousands of birds startled out of their jungle habitat.

There were no casualties in Padang or on the warships, which retired behind the cover of offshore islands.

The warships were accompanied by 5 troop transports. Rebel sources believed they were jammed with 4 army battalions, one of Marines and another of paratroopers.

Rebel Army intelligence said as many as 6,000 government troops may swarm ashore on a fleet of rafts and oil barges assembled earlier in the Mentawi Islands, 100 miles off Padang.

No Hazard

St. Louis (INS)—An Atomic Energy Commission official said that strontium-90 now on earth and in the atmosphere is not of sufficient quantity to pose any immediate danger.

Lt. Col. Bernard F. Trum of the AEC's Division of Biology and Medicine, asserted that any peril which might develop in milk would be "more readily detected than any other potential hazard."

Some Stocks Off 2 Points

New York (AP) — The stock market's recovery drive ran afoul of profit taking Wednesday and prices declined on a broad front.

Leading issues were down fractions to about two points.

The fall snipped a three-day advance. It brought an estimated drop of $1,280,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the average.

Stocks seemed to pay heed to the kind of unsatisfactory earning statements which they shrugged off Tuesday.

Volume fell to 2,240,000 shares, slightly above average for the year, and compared with 2,590,000 Tuesday.

Poor first quarter reports for such giants as Union Carbide, Chrysler and General Electric provided reason for selling those issues. Chrysler endured a concentrated gale of selling at one phase of the session, enough to boost it to the top of the most active list and drop the price to a new low for the year.

Specific issues showed they were responsive to news developments, an example being Caterpillar which was off a couple of points prior to news that President Eisenhower signed the $1,800,000,000 highway construction bill. Caterpillar quickly cut the loss to only ⅛.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.00 to $162.50 with the industrials down $2.00, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities off 10 cents.

Of 1,142 issues traded, 581 declined and 320 rose. New highs for the year totaled 70 and new lows 17.

American Stock Exchange prices declined on volume of 560,000 shares compared with 570,000 Tuesday.

MOST GRAINS SHOW LOSSES

Chicago (AP) — Selling pressure was on grain futures Wednesday and prices of all contracts on the Board of Trade were thrown for losses.

Profit takers assumed command early in the corn pit and never yielded it. Buying support was somewhat diminished from the strength of the past two weeks in which the grain had made an almost steady advance of around eight cents a bushel.

Prices for cash corn continued firm and receipts at terminal markets still were running light. Arrivals at Chicago were only 79 cars for commercial channels.

May wheat led the downturn at 2½ cents a bushel under Tuesday's close on word that producers in the Southwest had dealers. Somewhat heavier receipts of this grain in major terminals also resulted in a greater volume of hedge selling in the futures pit.

At the close, wheat was ¼-½ cents a bushel lower, corn ¾-1¼ lower, oats ⅜-⅝ lower, rye ⅜-1¼ lower. Soybeans unchanged to 1⅞ lower, and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Lincoln Area Wage List Submitted

Wage predetermination requests for the first interstate work in the Lincoln area were submitted to the Kansas City regional office of the U.S. Department of Labor last week, State Engineer L. N. Ress said Wednesday.

The interstate project involves a 6-mile stretch from the Havelock-Waverly interchange west to the Arbor road, and will cost approximately $5 million.

The project calls for 2 interchanges, one with U.S. 6, and the other with U.S. 77, and 2 railroad grade separation structures, one across the Burlington lines and the other across the Northwestern lines, Ress said.

Originally scheduled for letting April 24, Ress said he plans to advertise for construction of the project for the June letting.

Delay on the Lincoln interstate project was the result of a controversy with the Department of Labor over wage predeterminations submitted for an interstate interchange in the Omaha area.

Asked if he anticipated similar trouble with the Lincoln project, Ress answered, "I don't have my crystal ball and I haven't the slightest idea."

Ress said the Department of Roads submitted wage predetermination requests for 60 job classifications, just as that submitted for the Omaha project which has created the difference between the Nebraska Highway Department and the U.S. Department of Labor.

Wage predeterminations are required on all 90-10 interstate projects.

The post's projects included the providing of 2 college scholarships, donations and labor following the Milford tornado, and a youth activities program.

The 292 members of the post contributed 59,964 hours of labor and spent $11,699 for community programs.

Lowe said that the auxiliaries of these posts had taken part in the community activities which won them awards, and added that the 4 top posts would compete in a national contest.

District 14 of VFW was selected for a special citation for community service. The district includes Kearney, Cozad, Holdrege, Gothenburg, Lexington, Beaver City, Bertrand, Oxford, Arapahoe, Alma, Hildreth, Axtell, and Elm Creek.

NEW WESLEYAN TRADITION OF PRESIDENTIAL SEAL TO BEGIN

A new tradition will be launched at Nebraska Wesleyan University Friday.

President Vance D. Rogers will be presented with a symbol of the great seal of the high office of the Presidency by Nebraska Area Bishop H. Bascom Watts in a ritualisitc ceremony designed especially for the occasion.

The symbol will take the form of a silver disc, encircled by a chain band, superimposed upon which is raised replica of the seal of the university.

The symbol is suspended by a nylon cord in yellow and brown, the Wesleyan colors. It will be worn by Dr. Rogers on all future "state" occasions, and will become his personal property.

"Some colleges present their new presidents with a "key" to the college," said Dr. Carl M. Davidson, chairman of the general inaugural committee, "but Nebraska Wesleyan has never had such a symbol."

Dr. Charles R. Goff, pastor of The Chicago Temple, will be the speaker Thursday at 6 p.m. at Cotner Terrace for a Trustees Dinner which is part of the inaugural ceremonies which will end Friday.

Court Declines Parker Case

The United States Supreme Court announced Wednesday it refuses to hear the case of Darrell Parker, former Lincoln City Forester, now serving a life sentence at the Nebraska Penitentiary for the December, 1955 slaying of his wife Nancy.

Nebraska's Deputy Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyer said their office received a letter from the clerk of the U.S. Supreme Court stating that the Court refused a review of the case which had been requested by Parker's attorneys.

Lincoln attorney Thomas McManus, one of Parker's attorneys, said the case will be appealed in the same manner as the Loyd Grandsinger case.

New Action Planned

Parker's conviction, he said, will be appealed to the U.S. District Court, probably on a habeas corpus motion that Parker is being illegally detained.

He said the appeal to U.S. District Court will be made "just as soon as we can." McManus said their office will have to confer with Parker's Iowa attorneys, and that the appeal will be filed "within a few weeks."

Nebraska's Supreme Court affirmed the Lancaster County District Court conviction of Parker, and denied a subsequent request for a rehearing.

Assistant Attorney General Homer Hamilton represented the state in the hearing before the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Following the Nebraska high court's ruling, Parker's attorneys Max Towle of Lincoln and Edgar Cook of Iowa, said they would appeal the case to the nation's highest tribunal.
